NEWS OF THE DAY.

—We now know who "Favo" is.

—Mrs. Moody is stopping at Northfield, Conn.

—General Crook has been giving the Indians a little dressing.

—Hon. William M. Evarts has subscribed $250 to save the Old South Church, Boston.

—The committees are hard at work for our Centennial Fourth demonstration, but the funds do not come in in an encouraging way.

—Col. Scott was again in the stand yesterday and told all he knew about that Caldwell telegram. His knowledge was rather limited.

—The price of board at the principal hotels of the larger watering places is this summer substantially the same as it was three or four years ago.

—Some reported wholesale murders in Bulgaria by the Turks, suggests that it is about time that something else beside peace talk was indulged in toward Turkey.

—The Pall Mall Gazette says that England must give up Wagner or Adelina Patti's system of vocalization, it prefers the infinite melody of the little woman.

—St. Louis is pluming herself on the idea that she will have a bigger crowd next week than Cincinnati had. The delegates are arriving in droves, and from this time "work" will go on vigorously.

—The New York Tribune in a review of the business outlook, says we have not yet come down to "hard pan" but have been feeding on hops which may be a pleasant but is not a nutritious diet.

—Miss Eliza Cameron, a beautiful young lady of twenty summers, will keep house for her father, Secretary of War Cameron, who has taken the house in Washington lately occupied by Attorney General Pierrepont.

—Little Denmark insists upon preserving her position in the ranks with sixteen batteries of Krupp cannon. Denmark is a most interesting country, one of the finest among the smaller nations; but in the event of any general war in Europe, she would have to unite with Germany, or be wiped from the map.

—At the anniversary of the Sunday school of the Berean Baptist Church on Wednesday night, General Hawley, President of the Centennial Commission, expressed himself in favor of keeping the Exposition grounds closed on Sunday, being of the opinion that man, beast and machinery would be better for a day of rest.

Let now the ringing cheer incite
The Buckeye, all the land to fight:
We'e with you in the coming fight:
Hurrah, hurrah for Hayes!

Lead out the host for battle, Hayes,
As thou hast led before,
We're coming as in other days,
Ten hundred thousand more.

—William J. Heppin, appointed Secretary of Legation at London, is best known as having been President of the Union Lead Club in 1871-73. He is a reputable man, of unquestionable social and other qualifications for the post. He is a brother of the well known artist, Augustus J. Hoppin, whose pleasant sketches and caricatures of foreign travel have been published in Boston.

—The late Abdul Aziz, before his death-bed arrived at "that tragico comic state of imbecille despotism so often and successfully represented in the burlesques of Offenbach and the other writers of opera bouffe." A visitor to the harem describes meeting in one of the hallways with a large giraffe, which was painfully groping its way with neck bowed down and head scraping along the ceiling.

—The Philadelphia Star flashes a great truth in the following two short sentences, after copying a suggestive extract from one of the speeches of Judge Kelley in Congress: "France encourages the industry of her people and grows rich, while England preaches free trade, and nearly every day brings accounts of failures of her business men. Here are practical lessons which every one may learn."

—Although rumor had it that Commodore Vanderbilt was dying a number of times yesterday, he was doing comfortably up to a late hour last evening. The Commodore has a notion that somebody is waiting anxiously for him to end, and he called the physicians yesterday that people could take it out in waiting; that, despite the report to the contrary, he would yet be about. His physicians have hopes of his living a long time yet.

—A number of prominent American residents in Paris have, it is said, initiated a movement to place on the tomb of Lafayette, on the Fourth of July, some recognition of the services which the illustrious General rendered to the United States. The proposal is to erect a marble statue, with the inscription recalling what Lafayette did in the cause of American independence. The stone on the grave at present is a plain one, and unworthy of the memory of so great man.

—The Regatta Committee of the New York Yacht club has arranged for a series of match races to test the merits of their first class yachts, in order to select the one to represent the club in the contest for the America's Cup, with the Canadian yacht the Countess of Dufferin. The choice, it was thought, would be among the Madeline, Idler, Columbia, Tidal Wave, and Palmer. There are reasons for believing that neither of the three last will be considered as competitors; therefore the choice will lie between the Madeline and Idler. It is generally conceded by those interested in the matter that the Idler will be the boat chosen for the contest.

—From all quarters of Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania come cheering notes of an abundant harvest of wheat and an excellent prospect for the corn crop. The wheat is now ripe for the reaper, and indeed has already been cut in some parts of Virginia. In Maryland there is little complaint of any injury to that cereal either from rust or the fly. The corn crop is also said to be vegetating in a manner indifferent to the cut worm, the grub, and similar enemies. Fruit is also reported in excellent condition—the peaches being less in quality but of excellent quality. Altogether the Centennial year promises to be appropriately fruitful of native bounties as well as of patriotic impulses.

—Wall street has a king. His reign is usually a short one. His subjects mutinize and dethrone him, and his scepter passes to others. To be the potentate of a day is a great thing. For half a century all men who have led the street have been ruined. It is only a question of time. Combinations are formed against them. Men betray cliques and sell out each other, and the reverses of an hour are very startling. A leading broker was on the stand this week. He admitted that he had been worth, free and clear, $3,000,000. Two millions he lost in loans; $1,500,000 he lost in speculation and shrinkages, and $500,000 of that he borrowed, and owes it still. This heavy sum of $3,000,000 he lost in a few months. And this broker is only one out of a great many.

—The other morning as the conductor of a train going west was passing around after tickets, he came to a man who waved him away with a very important air, at the same time remarking: "Pass on, Sir, pass on." "I want your ticket," replied the conductor. "Ticket, you hireling of anarcy," shouted the man, puffing out his cheeks. "Sir, I own this road! I bought it just before leaving home, and while I would like to retain you in my employ, you must be more civil, or I shall discharge you on the spot, even if you have a dozen children to support!" "I must have your ticket or the money," said the official. "Consider yourself discharged," roared the man. He was left on the track between two stations. He sat down on a log to pin his paper collar on, and his last words as the train moved off were: "Gentlemen, this outrage will make this country shudder from Maine to Texas."

—The Graphic says the New York press seem to be stricken with political paralysis. They lack prescience and ideas. They cannot forecast the future. It was otherwise in the days of Horace Greeley, the elder Bennett, and Henry J. Raymond. Those newspaper giants had a grasp of affairs. They understood the situation and avoided serious blunders. Even the so-called eccentricities of these men were often deeply-planned political maneuvers. When Greeley "spat upon" General Taylor's Whig platform it was for the purpose of keeping the Free Soilers in hand, and when it at last appeared that the fight was between Taylor and Cass, he brought them around to the Whig ranks. The elder Bennett and Raymond always showed equal sagacity. The feeble people who have succeeded these giants do not seem either to know or to dare. They possess neither genius nor audacity. The Times supported Morgan because he is one of the owners of that paper; the Sun supported another candidate because his brother was a stockholder. It is said that the gallant editor of the Herald would have been made Secretary of the Navy had Conkling been elected.

Moulton vs. Beecher.

NEW YORK, June 23.—At a special session of the general term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn to-day, the decision given by Judge Dykeman in the case of Moulton vs. Beecher, argued at Poughkeepsie, was reversed. This gives Moulton the right to bring action. Beecher can carry the case to the Court of Appeals if he desires.

SECOND EDITION

NEWS FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

The Freshest Gleanings from the Old World.

A Terrible Record of Massacre in Bulgaria.

Turkish Atrocities in Bulgaria.

LONDON, June 23.—The Daily News publishes a letter from its Constantinople correspondent, dated June 16th, giving details of atrocities committed in Bulgaria by Bashi Bazouks' Turkish irregular troops. The writer says: All moveable property has been plundered, houses and villages burned, and old men, women and children indiscriminately slaughtered. It is estimated that the province, which heretofore yielded to the Govern nent an annual revenue of four million dollars, will not pay one quarter that sum this year or for years to come. Various estimates place the number of lives sacrificed at from 18,000 to 30,000.

The correspondent names thirty-seven villages known to have been destroyed. Among the refugees, the number of whom is very small, there is not a girl over ten years of age. In the village of Serustitza, district of Philippopolis, fifteen hundred persons are known to have been killed. This village consisted of four hundred houses, and was prosperous and peaceful. Every house has been burned and all the inhabitants killed except a few women and children, who took refuge in Philippopolis, and some women who were carried off by Bashi Bazouks. These cruelties have made a great impression at Constantinople, and the English ambassador has intervened with the Government to put an end to them.

Mobilization of the Servian Militia

VIENNA, June 23.—According to intelligence from Belgrade, an order for for the mobilization of the first contingent of the Servian militia has been issued. Each brigade is to assemble in its station to-morrow. Next week an order will be issued for the mobilization of the second contingent. At the end of that week the army is to take its strategetical positions on the frontier. At the same time Prince Milan is to issue a manifesto to the people and proceed to the army. As an ultimatum to Turkey is still undisclaimed, these measures, if carried into effect, may be meant as a demonstration and pressure to promote the diplomatic success of Ristic, the Servian Minister.

War in the Air.

LONDON, June 24.—A special to the Standard, dated Constantinople, June 21st, via Athens, says: Great uneasiness prevails, and is increasing. The palace of Sultan Murad is surrounded day and night by pickets of cavalry. The Russian residents are sending their families away. Ibrahim Pasha has been placed under arrest. There are various rumors that he is implicated in Russian intrigues, and that he assisted Abdul Aziz in disposing of his treasure.

The Censorship of the Press

is extremely severe. Three Turkish and three French journals are now suspended. The Government is fast becoming unpopular, and will speedily fall if it does not abandon its undecided attitude.

THE INDIAN WAR.

A Battle with Sioux.

The Redskins Whipped—A Number of Soldiers Killed and Others Wounded—Gen. Crook's Horse Shot Under Him.

CHEYENNE, June 23.—As intimated in the last dispatch, Cook's command left camp on the morning of the 16th inst. with four days' rations, and struck across to Rosebud, a branch of the Yellowstone, in Montana. Following down this creek next morning, about five miles down, the Snake and Crow scouts brought word from the front that Sioux were in force in the valley, and by half-past eight o'clock the command was in position and an extensive fire inaugurated along the bluffs to north of the creek. The enemy, who had began the attack, and showing thereby their confidence in their ability to whip the command, proved to be the soldiers and allies advanced. The Sioux were all well mounted and well armed, and swarmed in numbers. At times they were prodigal in the use of ammunition. The fight lasted four hours, when the enemy retired out of sight at a distance.

The casualities are as follows: Third cavalry, Co. F, Sergeant Marshall and Private Roe killed; Privates Broderson and Feathersby wounded. Co. I, Privates Allen and Flynn killed; Sergeant Knock, Corporal Cartz, Privates Smith, Stewart, O'Brien and Lossey Boskey wounded. Co. L, Sergeant Newkirker, Privates Bennett, Potts, Conners and Mitchell killed; Sergeants Cook, Edwards, Snow and Cramer wounded. Second cavalry, Captain Henry, Co. D, Sergeant O'Donnell wounded. Co. B, Private Steiner wounded. The latter are all likely to recover. One Snake scout was killed and three wounded, and four Crows wounded. The dead bodies of thirteen Sioux were found on the field, and it is certain a number more were killed, with the usual proportion of wounded. Several Sioux ponies were killed, and General Crook's horse shot under him.

The fight occurred fifty miles from the wagon and pack trains, and owing to the want of rations and that the wounded might be cared for, it was necessary to return thereto. The officers and soldiers all displayed marked gallantry, the nature of the ground making the infantry advantageous. General Crook has ordered five companies to join him at once, the cavalry in the meantime continuing operations on the plains and in the hills, should definite information of the villages be obtained. There is one month's supply of rations in camp. The Crows have returned to their homes. The rich game country of the Big Horn affords an ample commissary department for the Sioux.

OMAHA, June 23.—Gen. Crook has ordered three additional companies of infantry and one of cavalry to report to his headquarters in the field at once.

THE CALDWELL DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, June 23.—James C. Reed published a letter to-day announcing himself as the author of the famous "Favo" dispatch to Josiah Caldwell, and states that in sending it he used the ordinary business key word from motives of economy, not secresy, "Favo" being a code word for the name and address of Reed and Caldwell. Mr. Reed says he does not know how Blaine learned Caldwell had enabled to the Judiciary Committee, but he learns now for the first time of its origin. Reed says three years ago he was Caldwell's confidential clerk, but to-day is simply his friend.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Judiciary Committee this morning examined Col. Thomas A. Scott through Mr. Knott in relation to the Caldwell telegram. He testified that he sent a dispatch to Josiah P. Caldwell on the 31st of May, thanking him for endorsing his evidence before the committee. He knew nothing about two messages sent to Caldwell from Philadelphia, excepting that a young man, who said his name was Reed, representing himself as private secretary to Caldwell, called upon witness and showed him a copy of a dispatch which he desired to send to Caldwell, which would cost about one hundred dollars in gold, and asked witness to aid in sending it. Witness declined to do it, and Reed said he would cut down the dispatch and send it himself. The dispatch alluded to was similar to the one received by Knott from Caldwell, but witness did not think it was in the exact words.

This testimony is in harmony with the statements contained in Reed's letter in the New York Herald this morning.

Witness had never seen Reed before that time, and only once since. Witness was a little suspicious about the dispatch which he himself received from Caldwell, and sent over to the telegraph office to have it verified, and there learned it was a genuine dispatch called from London. Witness knew nothing of Reed or his whereabouts, except That he had stated. Witness identified his own signature to a letter containing a statement of this matter received by Knott on Wednesday last.

The "Silver" Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The substitute reported from the Senate Finance Committee for the so-called "Randall silver bill," passed by the House on the 15th instant, consists of the first two sections of the Finance Committee's pending bill and the last two of the House bill. In brief, it provides for the coinage of silver dollars 412 8-10 grains of standard silver, and for issuing them and subsidiary coins in exchange for an equal amount of United States notes to be permanently retired. Silver bullion needed for this purpose is to be purchased in amounts not exceeding one million dollars at a time, at market rates, and finally, the legal tender power of the trade dollar is abolished.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, June 23, 1876.

SENATE.

The Enforcement Act.

MR. EDMUNDS moved to take up the bill to amend the second, fourth and fifth sections of the Enforcement Act lately reported from the Judiciary Committee to meet the objections to the law expressed in the recent decision of the Supreme Court.

After discussion a vote was taken, which resulted yeas 23 and nays 14—a party vote.

Several verbal amendments to the first section were agreed to.

The second section, which provides that if any person or officer of the United States, or officer of any State, or any person exercising power or authority under the United States or any State, shall deny or abridge to any citizen of the United States the right and opportunity to vote by reason of race, color or previous condition of servitude, &c., shall be punished by fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not exceeding two years.

Various amendments were offered and rejected, when the section was agreed to.

That whenever by or under the authority of the Constitution or laws of any State, or the laws of any Territory, or the laws of the United States, any act is required to be done by any citizen as prerequisite to qualify or entitle him to vote, the offer of any such citizen to perform the act required to be done as aforesaid shall, if it fail to be carried into execution by reason of a wrongful act, of the omission of any person or officer charged with the duty of receiving or permitting such performance or offer to perform, of acting thereon, proceeding from race, color or previous condition or servitude of such citizen, be deemed and be held as a performance in law of such act, and due performance by such person or officer of his duty in the premises, another person so offering and failing as aforesaid, and being otherwise qualified, shall be entitled to vote in the same manner and to the same extent as if he had in fact performed such act, and as if such person or officer had done his duty in the premises. And any judge, inspector or other officer of election whose duty it is or shall be to receive, count, certify, register, report or give effect to the lawful vote of any citizen, who shall wrongfully refuse or omit to receive, count, certify, register, report or give effect to the vote of such citizen so having offered, and failed to perform as aforesaid, upon presentation by him of his affidavit, stating that he had a right to qualify as a voter, and such offer at the time and place thereof, and the name of the officer or person whose duty it was to act thereon, and that he was wrongfully prevented by such officer or person from performing such act by reason of his race, color or previous condition of servitude, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars to the person aggrieved thereby, to be recovered by an action in the case, with full costs and such allowance for counsel fees as the Court shall deem just, and shall also for every such offence be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, be fined not less than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one month and not more than one year, or both in the discretion of the Court.

HOUSE.

Sundry Civil Appropriation.

The House met at 11 o'clock, and immediately went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. After rejecting the amendment increasing to $750,000 the appropriation of $250,000 for the continuation of work on the State, War and Navy Department buildings the committee rose. The session yesterday was formally closed, and that of to-day began.

Contested Seats.

Mr. HOUSE, from the Committee on Elections, called up the Idaho contested election case, and reported a unanimous resolution of the committee unseating T. W. Bennett, the sitting Delegate, and declaring S. S. Finn entitled to a seat. Agreed to, and Finn was sworn in.

Mr. HARRIS, from the same committee, reported a unanimous resolution declaring Joseph H. Rainey, the sitting member, entitled to a seat from the First District of South Carolina. Adopted.

Also the same report in the case of H. B. Strait from the Second District of Minnesota. Adopted.

The House then again went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

Mr. SPARKS offered an amendment increasing the appropriation for the lighting and buoyage of the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers from $120,000 to $150,000. Adopted.

Items for miscellaneous objects were passed, as follows: Paper, engraving, &c., for national currency, $175,000; transportation of bonds, &c., $25,000; propagation of food fishes, $30,000; signal service, $300,000.

Mr. HANCOCK offered an amendment appropriating $45,000 for completing the military telegraph between the army posts on the Texas frontiers, &c. Agreed to.

Other items were passed, as follows: For the Leavenworth military prison, $62,000; for the Hayden geological survey, $65,000; for Powell's survey of the Colorado, $30,000.

At this point the committee rose, and the House took a recess till 8 o'clock.

TORNADO IN KENTUCKY.

Ten or Twelve Houses in Paris Demolished—A House Struck by Lightning—Three Persons Injured.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—The Enquirer's Paris (Ky.) special says a tornado struck the northern portion of that city at 6:30 P. M., demolishing ten or twelve houses, including the colored Methodist church, uprooting a large number of trees, and doing other damage. Only two persons were injured, one seriously. At Nicholasville the lightning struck a house, igniting two kegs of powder. The explosion demolished the building and seriously injured a colored woman.

On the War Path in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, June 23.—Addresses have been presented to the Legislature calling for a sweeping removal of all Democratic officials throughout the State. The subject is made the special order for next Wednesday. In the House this morning N. G. Ordway, late Secretary-at-Arms of the United States House of Representatives, made a statement denying in toto the charges which have appeared in print against his official honesty, and said he should go before the committee at Washington.

Mob Law in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—A mob of masked men appeared at the jail at Burlington, Boone county, Ky., last night, obtained the keys from the jailor and took out a colored man named Williams, awaiting trial on a charge of murder. They were preparing to hang him, when he got away and ran, but was shot and badly wounded. The mob then recaptured the prisoner, hung him to a tree, and riddled the body with bullets.

Mr. Blaine's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Mr. Blaine's condition is improved. He remained in bed most of the day. Although his physicians advise his early departure from the city, it has not been decided that he is able to travel at present.

The Centennial and the Army.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—An order has been issued by General Sherman providing that the Centennial anniversary of the independence of the United States will be observed by the army.

A Change for Pittsburgh.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The President has nominated Henry H. McCormick as U. S. District Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

Fast Trotting.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Goldsmith Maid trotted three heats against time this afternoon at Belmont Park, making the first in 2:17¾, the second in 2:14, and the third in 2:17¼.

ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis convention and its probable work is now the chief topic of conversation among Democratic politicians. All trains passing through the city for the West now bear delegates and lobbyests to the gathering. The Pacific Express on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad yesterday morning was composed of two sections, and bore a large number of Eastern delegates. Several of the prominent Democrats of this city and Allegheny also went out on the same train.

This morning many of the delegates from this State and their friends will pass through at 8:20. The officials at Union Depot last night were bothered by inquiries from Democratic friends in references to trains until they were strongly inclined to become crusty to all except acquaintances. The telegraph operators were not in the best humor either, because of the remarkable economy of the delegates. When the Cincinnati convention took place the operators were kept busy constantly, and as they received a commission on the business done they were correspondingly happy. Besides the Union Depot Hotel authorities were made aware that the crowd was a hungry one, nearly every man who took breakfast seemingly endeavoring to do his duty to the utmost in the way of storing away edibles.

AT the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Asbury University, held on Wednesday of this week, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the Rev. F. D. Hemenway, of the Second Avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny. This institution is one of the oldest and most influential theological schools in the country, and the honor coming from such a source is especially complimentary.

THE Central Advocate gives an account of the Union Memorial services of William Wakefield, at Township House, Vigo county, Indiana, Sunday, June 4th. It says: "Mr. Wakefield, a native of Westmoreland county, Pa., was a nephew of Samuel Wakefield, who, a quarter of a century ago, was the Philip Phillips of New England Methodism. He moved to Indiana seventeen years ago. Followed through a long life by pious example he at last joined the church, sought and found religion, and died happy.

ON Monday, July 3d, by resolution of the Convention of the Diocese of Pittsburgh and Central Pennsylvania, have by resolution of the Convention, been invited to participate—the two parishes by sending a Lay Deputy each.

Will the Lord give prosperity to that Church which repudiates a faithful minister's salary." Not many Christian people would favor the idea of the Government repudiating the national debt; neither will one without just cause, consent to go into bankruptcy with his personal indebtedness. Should a congregation of Christians, the "City on a hill," and "the Light of the world," have a poor, self-sacrificing minister to ride in the heat and cold, promising him a remuneration, and then after the preacher has contracted debts on the faith of what he conceives to be the best risk in the world—a promise from his brethren—the Church disavow the debt? Verily, it lets the poor minister pay even his horse hire while serving them? I ask, will the Great Head of the Church prosper any congregation which is so insensible to its most sacred obligations?—Episcopal Register.

TWO FAMILIES belonging to the same church live on opposite sides of the same street. They are equally healthy and vigorous in every-day life, and exhibit a kind of competitive spirit in many matters of high achievement. But when it comes to taking part in religious work and attending church, there is a marked difference. The one is interested in every good work, is prompt and always on hand, is ready and cheerfully to take hold to help in every enterprise; the other is careless, indifferent, and indisposed to lend either hand or influence. The one is at church twice a day, at Sabbath school, at prayer meeting, and can be depended on in all weather and in all circumstance. What produces the contrast? Clearly, the difference in Christian experience and sense of devotion and responsibility to God. In the one home there is a realization of God's peace, and of the duty and privilege of his worship. In the other there is a barrenness of love that makes holy prompting impossible.—Presbyterian Banner.

Change in Business.

We learn that the enterprising and exceedingly popular young merchant, Mr. A. W. Erwin, of 172 and 174 Federal street, Allegheny, is making his arrangements to quit the mercantile business this fall, for the purpose of embarking in another branch of business. We feel confident that many of his former patrons will regret his loss in the mercantile business, but will be pleased to hear of his success in whatever branch of business he may engage in the future. This change of business will necessitate the sale within the next sixty days of his entire stock of goods—one of the largest in this part of the State—regardless of cost or value. The stock, we are informed, is very full and complete in every department, embracing $75,000 worth of new, fashionable, and desirable goods. The great slaughter has already begun, and at the prices at which he is now selling, it will take but a short time to close out the entire stock. Call and examine the goods, and inquire the prices.

BREVITIES.

....Councils meet on Monday.

....Captain Jacob A. Dohrman, an old river man, died at Steubenville on Thursday, of paralysis. He was eighty years old.

....Mr. McMillan, toll-keeper at the Allegheny end of the Ninth st. bridge, while engaged Thursday in removing the rope with which Col. Grandy was drawn out of the river, got some of the decomposed flesh into a slight wound in his hand. Merrill, of Philadelphia, was its owner. Scanlon was then held to await developments, acknowledging that he had stolen the valise at Union Depot. Last evening Mr. Merrill came to the office and identified the valise and contents, and Scanlon will doubtless be sent up to-day.

RAILROAD SMASHUP.

Accident in the Ninth Ward, Allegheny.

A locomotive drawing an express car, baggage car and eight passenger coaches on the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R., jumped the track about noon yesterday in the Ninth ward, Allegheny, as the train was entering the city. The accident happened just below the round house. The engine plunged along for twenty-five yards after it left the track and finally stopped with its pilot embedded in the earth. Its roof was torn to splinters, the box dislodged from its place, but the engineer and fireman, jumping out in time to save themselves, escaped without receiving any bruises. The express car which was attached to the engine came forcibly against it, and was hurled down an incline of about ten feet. The messenger who was inside fortunately escaped without being injured. The baggage car was hurled against the side of the hill with fearful velocity and damaged past repair. There were eight passenger coaches attached to the train, but only one of them jumped the track. The passengers were greatly frightened, but they managed to scramble out and were none the worse of the accident. They were transferred to other cars and brought to this city. A number of ladies living in houses adjacent to the scene of the accident, and who saw it, fainted. They thought a number of persons had been killed, and particularly the fireman, who jumped but was buried beneath the express car, though he escaped unhurt. While a number of men were engaged removing the wrecked cars from the track, Mark Adams, an engineer, who was assisting at the work, was overcome by the heat, and became insensible. He was carried into a house near by and medical aid called. A number of doses sufficient in a couple of hours to be removed to his home. His condition is not considered serious.

—The Philadelphia Star dashes a great truth in the following two short sentences, after copying a suggestive extract from one of the speeches of Judge Kelley in Congress: "France encourages the industry of her people and grows rich, while England preaches free trade, and nearly every day brings accounts of failures of her business men. Here are practical lessons which every one may learn."

—Although rumor had it that Commodore Vanderbilt was dying a number of times yesterday, he was doing comfortably up to a late hour last evening. The Commodore has a notion that somebody is waiting and anxously for him to die, and he said to his physicians yesterday that people could take out in waiting, that, despite the report to the contrary, he could yet live a long time. His physicians have hopes of his living a long time yet.

—A number of prominent American residents in Paris have issued a circular inviting a movement to place on the tomb of Lafayette, on the Fourth of July, some recognition of the services which the illustrious General rendered to the United States. There are reasons for believing that neither of the three last will be considered as competitors; therefore the choice will lie between the Madeline and Idler. It is generally conceded by those interested in the matter that the Idler will be the boat chosen for the contest.

—From all quarters of Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania come cheering notes of an abundant harvest of wheat and an excellent prospect for the corn crop. The wheat is now ripe for the reaper, and indeed has already been cut in some parts of Virginia. In Maryland there is little complaint of any injury to that cereal either from rust or the fly. The corn crop is also said to be vegetating in a manner indifferent to the cut worm, the grub, and other enemies. Fruit is also reported as in excellent condition—the peaches being less in quality but of excellent quality. Altogether the Centennial year promises to be appropriately fruitful of nature's bounties as well as of patriotic impulses.

—Wall street has a king. His reign is usually a short one. His subjects murmur, and dethrone him, and his scepter passes to others. To be the potentate of a day is a great thing. For half a century all men who have led the street have been ruined. It is only a question of time. Combinations are formed against them. Men betray cliques and sell out each other, and the reverses of an hour are very startling. A leading broker was on the stand this week. He admitted that he had been worth, free and clear, $3,000,000. Two millions he lost in loans; $1,500,000 he lost in speculative brokerages, and $500,000 of that he borrowed, and owes it still. This heavy sum of $3,000,000 he lost in a few months. And this broker is only one out of a great many.

—The other morning as the conductor of a train going west was passing around after tickets, he came to a man who waved him away with a very important air, at the same time remarking: "Pass on, Sir, pass on." "I want your ticket," replied the conductor. "Ticket, you hireling of slavery," shouted the man, puffing out his cheeks. "Sir, I own this road! I bought it just before leaving home, and while I would like to retain you in my employ, you must be more civil, or I shall discharge you on the spot, even if you have a dozen children to support!" "I must have your ticket or the money," said the official. "Consider yourself discharged," roared the man. He was left on the track between two stations. He sat down on a log to pin his paper collar on, and his last words as the train moved off were: "Gentlemen, this outrage will make this country shudder from Maine to Texas."

—The Graphic says the New York press seem to be stricken with political paralysis. They lack prescience and ideas. They cannot forecast the future. It was otherwise in the days of Horace Greeley, the elder Bennett, and Henry J. Raymond. These newspaper giants had a grasp of affairs. They understood the situation and avoided serious blunders. Even the so-called eccentricities of these men were often deeply-planned political maneuvers. When Greeley "spat upon" General Taylor's Whig platform it was for the purpose of keeping the Free Soilers in hand, and when it at last appeared that the fight was between Taylor and Cass, he brought them around to the Whig ranks. The elder Bennett and Raymond always showed equal sagacity. The feeble people who have succeeded these giants do not seem either to know or to dare. They possess neither genius nor audacity. The Times supported Morgan because he is one of the owners of that paper; the Sun supported another candidate because his brother was a stockholder. It is said that the gallant editor of the Herald would have been made Secretary of the Navy had Conkling been elected.

NEW YORK, June 23.—At a special session of the general term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn to-day, the decision given by Judge Dykeman in the case of Moulton vs. Beecher, argued at Poughkeepsie, was reversed. A Terrible Record of Massacre in Bulgaria.

Turkish Atrocities in Bulgaria.

LONDON, June 23.—The Daily News publishes a letter from its Constantinople correspondent, dated June 15th, giving details of atrocities committed in Bulgaria by Bashi Bazouks' Turkish irregular troops. The writer says: All moveable property has been plundered, houses and villages burned, and old men, women and children indiscriminately slaughtered. It is estimated that the province, which heretofore yielded to the Govern nent an annual revenue of four million dollars, will not pay one quarter that sum this year or for years to come. Various estimates place the number of lives sacrificed at from 18,000 to 30,000.

The correspondent names thirty-seven villages known to have been destroyed. Among the refugees, the number of whom is very small, there is not a girl over ten years of age. In the village of Servistica, district of Philippopolis, fifteen hundred persons are known to have been killed. This village consisted of four hundred houses, and was prosperous and peaceful. Every house has been burned and all the inhabitants killed except a few women and children, who took refuge in Philippopolis, and among women who were carried off by Bashi Bazouks. These outrages have made a great impression at Constantinople, and the English ambassador has intervened with the Government to put an end to them.

Mobilization of the Servian Militia

VIENNA, June 23.—According to intelligence from Belgrade, an order for the mobilization of the first contingent of the Servian militia has been issued. Each brigade is to assemble in its station to-morrow. Next week an order will be issued for the mobilization of the second contingent. At the end of that week the army is to take its strategical positions on the frontier. At the same time Prince Milan is to issue a manifesto to the people and proceed to the army. As an intention to attack Turkey is still disclaimed, these measures, if carried into effect, may be meant as a demonstration and pressure to promote the diplomatic success of Ristic, the Servian Minister.

War in the Air.

LONDON, June 24.—A special to the Standard, dated Constantinople, June 21st., via Athens, says: Great uneasiness prevails, and is increasing. The palace of Sultan Murad is surrounded day and night by pickets of cavalry. The Russian residents are sending their families away. Ibrahim Pasha has been placed under arrest. There are various rumors that he is implicated in Russian intrigues, and that he assisted Abdul Aziz in disposing of his treasure.

The Censorship of the Press

is extremely severe. Three Turkish and three French journals are now suspended. The Government is fast becoming unpopular, and will speedily fall if it does not abandon its undecided attitude.

THE INDIAN WAR.

A Battle with Sioux.

The Redskins Whipped—A Number of Soldiers Killed and Others Wounded—Gen. Crook's Horse Shot Under Him.

CHEYENNE, June 23.—As intimated in the last dispatch, Cook's command left camp on the morning of the 16th inst. with four days' rations, and struck across to Rosebud, a branch of the Yellowstone, in Montana. Following down this creek next morning, about five miles down, the Snake and Crow scouts brought word from the front that Sioux were in force in the hills, and by half-past eight o'clock the command was in position and an extensive fire inaugurated along the bluffs to north of the creek. The enemy, who had began the attack, and showing thereby their confidence in their ability to whip the command, retired as the soldiers and allies advanced. The Sioux were all well mounted and well armed, and in number by actual count they were prodigal in the use of ammunition. The fight lasted four hours, when the enemy retired out of sight at every point.

The casualties are as follows: Third cavalry, Co. F, Sergeant Marshall and Private Roe killed; Privates Broderson and Featherby wounded. Co. I, Privates Allen and Flynn killed; Sergeant Enoch, Corporal Cartz, Privates Smith, Stewart, O'Brien and Lossey Boskey wounded. Co. L, Sergeant Newkirker, Privates Bennett, Potts, Connors and Mitchell killed; Sergeants Cook, Edwards, Snow and Cramer wounded. Second cavalry, Captain Henry, Co. D, Sergeant O'Donnell wounded. Co. B, Private Steiner wounded. The latter are all likely to recover. One Snake scout was killed and three wounded, and four Crows wounded. The dead bodies of thirteen Sioux were found on the field, and it is certain a number more were killed, with the usual proportion of wounded. Several Sioux ponies were killed, and General Crook's horse shot under him.

The fight occurred fifty miles from the wagon and pack trains, and owing to the want of rations and that the wounded might be cared for, it was necessary to return thereto. The officers and soldiers all displayed marked gallantry, the nature of the ground making the infantry advantageous. General Crook has ordered five companies to join him at once, the cavalry in the meantime continuing operations on the plains and in the hills, should no definite information of the villages be obtained. There is one month's supply of rations in camp. The Crows have returned to their homes. The rich game country of the Big Horn affords an ample commissary department for the Sioux.

OMAHA, June 23.—Gen. Crook has ordered three additional companies of infantry and one of cavalry to report to his headquarters in the field at once.

THE CALDWELL DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, June 23.—James C. Reed published a letter to-day announcing himself as the author of the famous "Favo" dispatch to Josiah Caldwell, and states that in sending it he used the ordinary business key word from motives of economy, not secrecy, "Favo" being a code word for the name and address of Reed and Caldwell. Mr. Reed says he does not know how Blaine learned Caldwell had cabled to the Judiciary Committee, but he learns now for the first time of its origin. Reed says three years ago his was Caldwell's confidential clerk, but to-day is simply his friend.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Judiciary Committee this morning examined Col. Thomas A. Scott through Mr. Knott in relation to the Caldwell telegram. He testified that he sent a dispatch to Josiah P. Caldwell on the 31st of May, thanking him for endorsing his evidence before the committee. He knew nothing about two messages sent to Caldwell from Philadelphia, excepting that a young man, who said his name was Reed, representing himself as private secretary to Caldwell, called upon witness and showed him a copy of a dispatch which he desired to send to Caldwell, which would cost about one hundred dollars in gold, and asked witness to aid in sending it. Witness declined to do it, and Reed said he would cut down the dispatch and send it himself. The dispatch alluded to was similar to the one received by Knott from Caldwell, but witness did not think it was in the exact words.

This testimony is in harmony with the statements contained in Reed's letter in the New York Herald this morning.

Witness had never seen Reed before that time, and only once since. Witness was a little suspicious about the dispatch which he himself received from Caldwell, and sent over to the telegraph office to have it verified, and there learned it was a genuine dispatch called from London. Witness knew nothing of Reed or his whereabouts, except that he had served in the army. Witness identified his own signature to a letter containing a statement of this matter received by Knott on Wednesday last.

The "Silver" Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The substitute reported from the Senate Finance Committee for the so-called "Randall silver bill," passed by the House on the 15th instant, consists of the first two sections of the Finance Committee's pending bill and the last two of the House bill. In brief, it provides for the coinage of silver dollars 412 8-10 grains of standard silver, and for issuing them and subsidiary coins in exchange for an equal amount of United States notes to be permanently retired. Silver bullion needed for this purpose is to be purchased in amounts not exceeding one million dollars at a time, at market rates, and finally, the legal tender power of the trade dollar is abolished.

After discussion a vote was taken, which resulted yeas 23 and nays 14—a party vote.

Several verbal amendments to the first section were agreed to.

The second section, which provides that if any person or officer of the United States, or officer of any State, or any person exercising power or authority under the United States or any State, shall deny or abridge to any citizen of the United States the right and opportunity to vote by reason of race, color or previous condition of servitude, &c., shall be punished by fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not exceeding two years.

Various amendments were offered and rejected, when the section was agreed to.

That whenever by or under the authority of the Constitution or laws of any State, or the laws of any Territory, or the laws of the United States, any act shall be required to be done by any citizen as prerequisite to qualify or entitle him to vote, the offer of any such citizen to perform the act required to be done as aforesaid shall, if it fail to be carried into execution by reason of a wrongful act of the omission of any person or officer charged with the duty of receiving or permitting such performance or offer to perform, of acting thereon, proceeding from race, color or previous condition of servitude of such citizen, be deemed and be held as a performance in law of such act, and due performance by such person or officer of his duty in the premises, another person so offering and failing as aforesaid, and being otherwise qualified, shall be entitled to vote in the same manner and to the same extent as if he had in fact performed such act, and all such person or officer had done his duty in the premises, and any judge, inspector or other officer of election whose duty it is or shall be to receive, count, certify, register, report or give effect to the lawful vote of any citizen, who shall wrongfully refuse or omit to receive, count, certify, register, report or give effect to the vote of such citizen so having offered, and failed to perform as aforesaid, upon presentation by him of his affidavit, stating that he had a right to qualify as a voter, and such offer at the time and place thereof, and the name of the officer or person whose duty it was to act therein, and that he was wrongfully prevented by such officer or person from performing such act by reason of his race, color or previous condition of servitude, shall for every such offence forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars to the person aggrieved thereby, to be recovered by an action in the case, with full costs and such allowance for counsel fees as the Court shall deem just, and shall also for every such offence be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, be fined not less than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one month and not more than one year, or both in the discretion of the Court.

HOUSE.

Sundry Civil Appropriation.

The House met at 11 o'clock, and immediately went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. After rejecting the amendment increasing to $750,000 the appropriation of $250,000 for the continuation of work on the State, War and Navy Department buildings the committee rose. The session of yesterday was formally closed, and that of to-day began.

Contested Seats.

Mr. HOUSE, from the Committee on Elections, called up the Idaho contested election case, and reported a unanimous resolution of the committee unseating T. W. Bennett, the sitting Delegate, and declaring S. S. Finn entitled to a seat. Agreed to, and Finn was sworn in.

Mr. HARRIS, from the same committee, reported a unanimous resolution declaring Joseph H. Rainey, the sitting member, entitled to a seat from the First District of South Carolina. Adopted.

Also the same report in the case of H. B. Strait from the Second District of Minnesota. Adopted.

The House then again went into Committee of the Whole on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

Mr. STONE offered an amendment increasing the appropriation for the lighting and buoyage of the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers from $120,000 to $150,000. Adopted.

Items for miscellaneous objects were passed, as follows: Paper, engraving, &c., for national currency, $175,000; transportation of bonds, $25,000; propagation of food fishes, $30,000; signal service, $300,000.

Mr. HANCOCK offered an amendment appropriating $45,000 for constructing the military telegraph between the army posts on the Texas frontiers, &c. Agreed to.

Other items were passed, as follows: For the Lieutenant-Millitary prisons, $62,000; for the Hayden geological survey, $65,000; for Powell's survey of the Colorado, $30,000.

At this point the committee rose, and the House took a recess till 8 o'clock.

TORNADO IN KENTUCKY.

Ten or Twelve Houses in Paris Demolished—A House Struck by Lightning—Three Persons Injured.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—The Enquirer's Paris (Ky.) special says a tornado struck the northern portion of that city at 6:30 P. M., demolishing ten or twelve houses, including the colored Methodist church, uprooting a large number of trees, and doing other damage. Only two persons were killed, one seriously. At Nicholasville the lightning struck a house, igniting two kegs of powder. The explosion demolished the building and seriously injured a colored woman.

On the War Path to New Hampshire.

CONCORD, June 23.—Addresses have been presented to the Governor calling for a sweeping removal of all Democratic officials throughout the State. The subject is made the special order for next Wednesday. In the House this morning Mr. N. G. Ordway, late Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States House of Representatives, made a statement denying in toto the charges which have appeared in print against his official honesty, and said he should go before the committee at Washington.

Mob Law in Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—A mob of masked men appeared at the jail at Burlington, Boone county, Ky., last night, obtained the keys from the jailor and took out a colored man named Williams, awaiting trial on a charge of murder. They were preparing to hang him, when he got away and ran, but was shot and badly wounded. The mob then recaptured the prisoner, hung him to a tree, and riddled the body with bullets.

Mr. Blaine's Condition.

ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis convention and its probable work is now the chief topic of conversation among Democratic politicians. All trains passing through the city for the West now bear delegates and lobbyests to the gathering. The Pacific Express on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad yesterday morning was composed of two sections, and bore a large number of Eastern delegates. Several of the prominent Democrats of this city and Allegheny also went out on the same train.

This morning many of the delegates from this State and their friends will pass through at 8:20. The officials at Union Depot last night were bothered by inquiries from Democratic friends in reference to trains until they were strongly inclined to become crusty to all except acquaintances. The telegraph operators were not in the best humor either, because of the remarkable economy of the delegates. When the Cincinnati convention took place the operators were kept busy constantly, and as they received a commission on the business done they were correspondingly happy. Besides the Union Depot Hotel authorities were made aware that the crowd was a hungry one, nearly every man who took breakfast seemingly endeavoring to do his duty to the utmost in the way of storing away edibles.

REV. PROF. S. J. WILSON, of the Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny City, was designated by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, as one of the fraternal messengers to the United Presbyterian Church in Great Britain and Ireland.

REV. J. E. WITHROW, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis, has accepted a call to the Park Street Church, Boston, with a salary of $10,000. This is the church of which the celebrated Dr. Griffin was once pastor, and in which the late Rev. E. P. Swift, D. D., was ordained.

THE "Centenary Memorial," containing the historical discourses delivered at the Convention of the Synods of Pittsburgh, Erie, Cleveland and Columbus, held in Pittsburgh last December has been issued. The profits arising from its publication will be appropriated to the endowment of the Elliott Lectureship in the Allegheny Theological Seminary.

A SPECIAL meeting of the M. E. Local Preachers' Association of Pittsburg, Allegheny and vicinity will be held in the Methodist building, 131 Smithfield street, Saturday evening, July 1, at 7:30 o'clock. There is an important meeting, and every local preacher, whether a member of the Association or not, is requested and expected to be present.

THE following delegates have been elected to represent this city in the National Reform Convention, at Philadelphia, on the 28th inst.: T. H. B. Patterson, Major Wm. Frew, R. C. MAIN STREET M. E. CHURCH having been closed for repairs for several weeks will be reopened June 25th. Former pastors, ministers and friends in general are cordially invited to be present and participate on the occasion. Rev. T. M. Hudson, one the ablest and most revered ministers of the Pittsburgh Conference, is expected to be present and preach in the morning and evening.

THE corner stone of the First Methodist Church of Cherry Tree, Pa., will be laid with appropriate ceremonies to-day. Rev. J. H. Hull will assist the pastor, Rev. S. F. Crowther, in the services. The church is to be a two-storied gothic with corner tower. The extremes measure 62x52. It will be finished in a good, substantial manner, is beautifully located, and will be a fine accession to the town.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Asbury University, held on Wednesday of this week, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the Rev. E. B. Snyder, of the North Avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny. This institution is one of the oldest and most influential theological schools in the country, and the honor coming from such a source is especially complimentary.

THE Central Advocate gives an account of the funeral services of William Wakefield, at Township House, Vigo county, Indiana, Sunday, June 11th. Mr. Wakefield, a native of Westmoreland county, Pa., was a nephew of Samuel Wakefield, who, a quarter of a century ago, was the Philip Phillips of New England Methodism. He moved to Indiana forty-seven years ago. Followed through a long life by pious example he at last joined the church, sought and found religion, and died happy.

ON Monday, July 3d, by resolution of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, special religious services appropriate to the Centennial will be held at Christ Church, Philadelphia, and the discourse will be delivered by Bishop Stevens. The several parishes of this Commonwealth, together with the Bishops and Standing Committees of the Diocese of Pittsburgh and Central Pennsylvania, have by resolution of the Convention, been invited to participate—the parishes by sending a Lay Deputy each.

WILL the Lord give prosperity to that Church which repudiates a faithful minister's salary? Not many Christian people would favor the idea of the Government repudiating the national debt; neither will one without just cause, consent to go into bankruptcy with his personal indebtedness. Should a congregation of Christians, the "City on a hill," and "the Light of the world," have a poor, self-sacrificing minister to ride in the heat and cold, promising him a remuneration, and then after the preacher has contracted debts on the faith of what the people promised, "think" in the world—a promise from his brethren—the Church disavows the whole claim, and lets the poor minister pay even his horse hire while serving them? I ask, will the Great Head of the Church tolerate such congregation which is so insensible to its most sacred obligations?—Episcopal Register.

TWO FAMILIES belonging to the same church live on opposite sides of the same square. They are equally wealthy and vigorous in every-day life, and exhibit a kind of competition in industry and business achievement. But when it comes to taking part in religious work and attending church, there is a marked difference. That one is interested in every good work, is earnest and always ready to take hold to help in every enterprise, the other is careless, indifferent, and indisposed to lend either hand or influence. The one is at church twice a day, at Sabbath school, at prayer meeting, and can be depended on in all weather and in all circumstances. What produces the contrast? Clearly, the difference in Christian experience and sense of devotion and responsibility to God. In the one home there is a realization of God's peace, and of the duty and privilege of his worship. In the other there is a barrenness of love that makes holy prompting impossible.—Presbyterian Banner.

Change in Business.

We learn that the enterprising and exceedingly popular young merchant, Mr. A. W. Erwin, of 172 and 174 Federal street, Allegheny, is making his arrangements to quit the mercantile business this fall, for the purpose of embarking in another branch of business. We feel confident that many of his former patrons will regret his loss in the mercantile business, but will be pleased to hear of his success in whatever branch of business he may engage in the future. This change of business will necessitate the sale within the next sixty days of his entire stock of goods—one of the largest in this part of the State—regardless of cost or value. The stock, we are informed, is very full and complete in every department, embracing $75,000 worth of new, fashionable, and desirable goods. The great slaughter has already begun, and at the prices at which he is now selling, it will take but a short time to close out the entire stock. Call and examine the goods, and inquire the prices.

Merrill, of Philadelphia, was its owner. Scanlon was then held to await developments, acknowledging that he had stolen the valise at Union Depot. Last evening Mr. Merrill came to the office and identified the valise and contents, and Scanlon will doubtless be sent up to-day.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
RUTHERFORD B. HAYES,
OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM A. WHEELER,
OF NEW YORK.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 29½f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 102¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112.

H. H. MCCORMICK, Esq., was yesterday appointed United States District Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

IT is not so certain, after all, that Senator MORRILL will accept the position of Secretary of the Treasury. He was not aware of the President's intention to nominate him, and in view of the financial situation is not strongly inclined to accept.

IT is very evident that the Senate will not agree to the transfer of the charge of the Indians to the War Department. Aside from the fact that the peace policy is working well, and the humanitarian reasons involved, it is held that such transfer will be demoralizing to the army, in that it will afford temptations to provoke wars, for the sake of the promotions that may be earned. Senator INGALLS is a strong advocate for the transfer, but the majority is against him.

IF Congress works as earnestly for a few more as it has during a few days past, on the Appropriation bills, it can be ready to close them up, provided the two Houses can agree on the subject. Enough Republicans favor the most rigid economy that can be honestly practiced to meet every reasonable demand, and unless the Democrats insist on crippling the Government for partisan purposes, there is no reason why the bills should not be completed in time.

IF the ratification meeting proposed for Tuesday night compares with that held on the South Side, in attendance and interest, the Republicans should turn out in large numbers. The feeling of enthusiasm for the ticket is steadily growing, and the spirit of confidence, unity and strength is becoming very strong within the party. We therefore hope the meeting called will be all that can be asked as regards attendance and enthusiasm. The ticket is worthy a good send-off.

THE friends of Mr. BLAINE will seriously regret the relapse from which he suffers. He accepted too much excitement and labor, after so serious an attack as that which happened him on his way to church. His nervous system, now that the sustaining excitement has passed away, sinks under the strain that was put upon it, and he needs perfect quiet and rest. He will need to be careful of his health for a considerable time to come, if he would be fully and safely restored.

IF true, as reported, that the Turks have slaughtered a vast number of persons in Bulgaria, it is time that, from some source, these barbarities should be effectually punished. A protest from the English Minister hardly answers the necessities of the case. Servia is mobilizing her troops, but whether this means war, is one of the uncertainties of the moment. The outrage if as reported, is equivalent to those perpetrated on the Greeks, at the time of the suppression of the insurrection in that country.

EX-SECRETARY BRISTOW passed through the city yesterday on his way to Kentucky. He has laid aside the honors and dignities of high office, and proceeds in Republican simplicity on his way to the enjoyments of private life. It would be marvelous, were we not accustomed to it, that our public men take on and put off office with such wonderful facility. Yet thus it is. Honors among us, come from faithfulness and rectitude, whether in high or low position,—in public or private life.

THE Servians have not abandoned their warlike intentions by any means. They are still gathering up forces, and seem bent on war with Turkey. Some territorial advantages are involved, but it is mainly a race and religious war. The Sclavonic element in Southern Hungary is aroused, and recruits are pouring in for the Servian cause. Thus all the indications point to an active career and a possible war, which, however, may be confined to Turkey, and such of her principalities as may be in revolt.

THE letter of Colonel T. A. SCOTT to PROCTOR KNOTT fully exonerates himself from the suspicions attempted to be cast on him in connection with the CALDWELL dispatch. It also makes it probable that CALDWELL'S private Secretary notified him of the importance of sending the dispatch. At all events, CALDWELL, in a letter to Colonel SCOTT, fully and clearly sustains the latter in all his statements before the Committee. The truth is what the Committee should be hunting after, and this is amply sustained by CALDWELL in his endorsement of Colonel SCOTT.

THE fact that the President has determined to stop all the operations of the Government unless provision is made for its expenses, is making a profound impression on the Democracy, who are not so willing as they seemed to face the responsibility of having thousands thrown out of employment. Yet this is precisely what is to occur, unless arrangements are made for the necessary expenditures incurred. RANDALL is the principal opposer of concession,—and the other members are strongly insisting on his doing something to relieve them of the difficulty which surrounds them.

THE faithful are turning their faces toward St. Louis, and the coming week will be ablaze with excitement at that point. Through the country at large there is not a great amount of interest manifested in the St. Louis Convention, and the speculation over the probable nominations are almost entirely confined to the Democracy. So far as secured delegates go, TILDEN is ahead, but not enough so to have any assurance of success. Still, he has a formidable backing, and may pull through. HENDRICKS ranks next, after which no candidate has more than a State delegation at his back. HANCOCK, who is really the rising man, has no delegation at his back, but still may be the successful contestant. At all events, there is ample room for a free fight, and the successful man will be the one that can manage the susceptible ones the cheapest.

FROM all parts of the country come cheering indications of the earnest and profound enthusiasm with which our Presidential ticket is being received. Naturally, where so many had decided first preferences, a few days were required to quiet their feeling of disappointment that favorites had not been selected; but this over, and a careful examination of the merits and strength of the ticket followed. This has led to the most earnest confidence that the ticket is impregnably strong, and worthy the most earnest support of the Republican party. The prevailing impression now is, even among the Democracy, that they must present the very best ticket they can command, if they would make any contest at all. Ratification meetings are now in order everywhere, and the tide of enthusiasm is steadily rising.

OUR COLLEGE and school commencements this year passed off with fully their usual interest and eclat. Pittsburgh is favored with excellent institutions of learning, among which are our High School, where the most earnest and intelligent attention is given to the training of those committed to its care. A certificate of graduation from this institution is quite equal to that of any institution not capable of conferring collegiate honors. Western University supplies this need, and has, we learn, passed a successful year. Of our seminaries for ladies, the Pittsburgh Female College, on Ninth street, and the Pennsylvania Female College, at Shady Side, are both first-class institutions, furnishing ample facilities for solid as well as ornamental education. Both have had prosperous years, and both look out into the future with strong confidence of enlarged success.

THE extradition treaty muddle promises to be the subject of heated debate in the English Parliament, provided the ministry allow it to come up. A feeling of alarm has started owing to the announcement of the President, that we will have no dealings with England under the treaty, until a clear and favorable understanding is had. The Telegraph, of London, in defending Lord DERBY, finds itself compelled to put the defense on a false ground. It assumes that some attempt has been made by our government, to invade the right of asylum, violating to this end the treaty rights of England. There is not the slightest evidence that the United States had any purpose to have Winslow tried for any other crime than forgery, the exact issue on which his extradition was demanded. But the extradition clause of the ASHBURTON treaty did not provide any limitations in that direction. These came from a Parliamentary law, passed but a few years ago, and subsequently to the negotiation of the treaty. Our government simply refused to admit the principle that a treaty could be modified or annulled by an act of Parliament—and this was the issue involved. It will be bad for the ministry if the question comes up for discussion in Parliament.

ENGLISH LABOR.

A serious reduction in the prices paid to miners in England is about to be given effect, and this strange to say without a strike. That is, the miners agree to accept the reduction without creating trouble. The have been advised to this by their Secretary, who suggests that in the event of a strike they may be obliged to accept even less rates than are now offered. All this is indicative, not merely of hardships on the part of the working classes in England, but of severe depression in industry as well. It shows that the working people realize the impossibility of capitalists paying former wages, and so submit to the inevitable. We can not avoid expressing sympathy with them, as the amount they received was not, by any means excessive, while that now paid must be so small as place them on the verge of poverty. The inquiry started by this state of affairs is—what is the cause of this universal depression in trade? That it rests upon some deeper and profounder principle than the kind and quality of the money used is evident, as it is entirely certain that England the most depressed of all, is the very centre of specie currency.

Has the world produced and manufactured too rapidly? Has its working population increased out of proportion with the consumption? Have labor expediting agencies multiplied the productive power of the world overmuch,—or has a spasm of economy caused the people to live more economically? These are serious questions, in view of the wide spread and prevailing depression in all forms of business. These questions, too must be met, unless we go on, waiting for the good time coming, and expecting chance to restore the equilibrium of things. It is a singular fact that following great panics have been seasons of commercial and manufacturing depression, the old stock of manufactures being worked up before a new supply was required. Yet even this does not account for the prolonged depression in business, over the world at present.

This aside, however, and it is grateful to notice how cordially labor admits the necessities of the situation, so far as a capital is concerned. We do not mean by this to establish a comparison with our workingmen, as the situations are different. We cannot tell whether our manufacturers can or cannot afford to pay a given price, nor do we comment on that. It is simply the friendly spirit that we notice that has led the two elements in England to a friendly recognition of the situation that both are in, and the evident purpose to harmonize till the stress is over. This is the spirit that is generally needed at the present, and if properly exercised, will go far toward settling many difficulties and the bridging over many troubles. Capital and labor should harmonize, and the most friendly spirit should exist between them. The most transparent fairness and sincerity between the two is essential to this; and the fact of the two harmonizing so completely in England, is evidence to us that such a spirit exists at present. But back of this unity in a reduction of prices of labor come the more significant fact that the industrial interests in England are in a very deplorable state; worse, we imagine, than in this country.

DREW AND VANDERBILT.

The Two Money Kings in Their Old Age.

There is something pitiful in the simultaneous breaking down in mind and body and pocket of Daniel Drew, with his home sold over his head and the lawyers pursuing him to the house of his son, where he had sought shelter. And the picture is made more painful still by contrasting it with the picture of his old rival, Commodore Vanderbilt, amid affluence and the comforts of a peculiarly cheerful and happy home. But the lines of the two were always different. Mr. Drew was a hard-working speculator. He enjoyed nothing but speculations, admired nothing, and was morose without being exactly crabbed, and pious without being precisely moral. The Commodore was not the man to plan and fret over a speculation. He enjoyed everything—fine horses, a rubber of whist, with which game he never allowed business to interfere, and, above all, a good quiet joke and laugh. The speculative spirit in each was strong, but in Mall street gambling the different peculiarities of the two men were as marked as in everything else they did. Drew speculated only that he might speculate again, and on more extended scale, with his profits; and the fever growing by indulgence of the habit of course ruined him. Vanderbilt's great stock operations were merely "flyers" (on a grand scale, it is true) and had some definite object, such as the capture of the Harlem Railroad, the control of Western Union, or the consolidation of the Hudson, Harlem and Central; and in these enterprises his great gains were securely invested. Even in the matter of giving their methods differed. What little piety Vanderbilt has found practical application. Daniel Drew's gifts to churches and schools were speculative, for being in the shape of annuities they depended on his success in Wall street. "As long es I could," he said, "I see 'em through." Vanderbilt, when he gave to educational objects at all, gave munificently and unreservedly, as witness his millions of dollars to the Vanderbilt University at Nashville. In thus building his own monument he was practical as usual.

AFFAIRS OF STATE.

THE amount of capital invested in Beaver Falls manufactories is $2,180,000.

LANCASTER county expects to raise four million dollars worth of tobacco this year.

TWO York county men named Miller a few days ago stole from a blacksmith shop an anvil weighing 950 pounds. The traditional red-hot stove wouldn't be safe in their presence, even if chained down.

THE Greene county Republicans have put the following ticket in nomination: Congress—Jacob Rush. Assembly—Dr. J. L. Shriver. Associate Judge—George Sellers. Sheriff—John Cotterrel. Jury Commissioner—Josiah Gwynn.

THE Colonel Phillips, which was thoroughly overhauled during the winter, has begun making regular trips on Chautauqua Lake. The season gives promise of unusual brilliancy, and visitors are already arriving in considerable numbers.

THE Republicans of Washington county have nominated the following ticket: State Senator—Geo. V. Lawrence. Assembly—Messrs. Billingsly, Duncan and McLean. Sheriff—Mr. Work. Law Judge—Mr. Acheson. Congress—Hon. W. S. Moore.

Remembering all the Particulars.

A recent visitor to Yorktown, Va., met an old negro there ninety-five years old, who went to school with Washington before he was born. The following was the result of their conversation:

"I see Gen'l Washington? Yes, sah. Why, I was here all de time. See de British? See Cornwallis? To be sho'; wasn't I here—right here—all de time. Suttenly—I see 'em all. Now, I tell you, massa. I see Gen'l Washington, and he was a settin' on his hoss, and a eatin' of a peach; and Cornwallis he come out, a slippin' around to get away, and he start out down toward de creek, and he start to run, but Gen'l Washington, he see him d'rectly, an' he started arter him; and Gen'l Washington he didn't want to take no advantage of him, so he run well—an' pretty soon he catch Cornwallis, an' he catch him by the neck, and say: 'You scoundril, I got you!' And Cornwallis, he turn round an' handed Mr. Gen'l Washington his sword, and Gen'l Washington he jess took it an' cut his head off! See it? To be sho' I see it. I was right here all de time, massa—how I gwine help see it? Jess as I tell you. Gen'l Washington was a settin' on his hoss, an' eatin' of a peach—"

Peralto's Horsemanship.

There was one mustang, a vicious, white brute, named Santa Anna, who occasioned much trouble. He would do anything save stand still. It was of no use to bind him, for every time he heard another mustang coming down the home stretch, he would plunge madly about, pulling the grooms all over the track. As the Mexicame down to mount him near the wire, at one attempt he reared, and striking out he caught the lariat between his legs like a dog, sent the groom up against the fence and ran off up the track. At the next attempt he reared so high that he fell over upon his back. At the third attempt Peralto jumped for him, and putting his left foot into the stirrup, seized the lariat. No sooner did the brute feel the weight of the rider than he made a plunge and then reared, but before he was level again Peralto had swung into his seat and went to work with the spurs. The mustang backed several times and made for the fence, but finding it useless and his rider firmly seated, he made off down the stretch like a shot. It was a superb exhibition of horsemanship, and was greeted with continued applause.—Boston Advertiser.

Modern Conversation.

You should have seen Hobkins at our table. I'd no idea plain diet could be so suggestive. He found spectrum analysis in the salt-cellars, international rowing matches in the spoons, balloon traveling in the omelet, and co-operative housekeeping in the hash. He drew "survival of the fittest" from the very cheese; and, as John confidently remarked, actually shook kindergartens and juvenile delinquents out of the baby's feeding apron. He found prison discipline in the bread; and female colleges, universal suffrage, and liberal opinions generally in the butter. The calves'-head soup brought forth capital punishment; the beef, labor-union systems; and the dessert was full of "Gates Ajar" and spiritual manifestations. Once, while filling his teacup, I felt as if I was pouring out the entire Suez Canal, and I am sure I often dropped in a railroad accident with the sugar. What with iron cars, and elastic platforms, and wide gauges, and new brakes, car-starters, and compensating expansible rail-joinings, I grew confused in spite of myself.—Mrs. Dodge's "Theophilus and Others."

—News has been received at the New York Custom House from the United States District Attorney's office that the celebrated smuggled lace goods which were made for Eugenie, ex-Empress of the French, are to be shortly sold for Government account at United States Marshal's auction. They were seized in May, 1875, by Capt. Bracket, Special Treasury Agent, who followed their owner, a Mr. Hoorix, of Brussels, from New York to Philadelphia, thence to Wilmington, Del., and thence to Washington, where they were seized as contraband. The goods were exhibited at the last Paris Exhibition. The late Mr. A. T. Stewart expressed a wish to be present at their sale. Mr. Grant, of the firm of Grant & Miller, a well known Custom House lace expert, was asked to place a value upon the laces, and said he could not. A dress and shawl have been restored to Mr. Hoorix upon his representation that said goods belonged to his wife. There remain some eighteen or twenty pieces to be disposed of, and their sale promises to be a most interesting affair in spite of hard times.

SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1876.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT.
RUTHERFORD B. HAYES,
OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
WILLIAM A. WHEELER,
OF NEW YORK.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 29½f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 102¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112.

H. H. MCCORMICK, Esq., was yesterday appointed United States District Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

IT is not so certain, after all, that Senator MORRILL will accept the position of Secretary of the Treasury. He was not aware of the President's intention to nominate him, and in view of the financial situation is not strongly inclined to accept.

IT is very evident that the Senate will not agree to the transfer of the charge of the Indians to the War Department. Aside from the fact that the peace policy is working well, and the humanitarian reasons involved, it is held that such transfer will be demoralizing to the army, in that it will afford temptations to provoke wars, for the sake of the promotions that may be earned. Senator INGALLS is a strong advocate for the transfer, but the majority is against him.

IF Congress works as earnestly for a few more as it has during a few days past, on the Appropriation bills, it can be ready to close them up, provided the two Houses can agree on the subject. Enough Republicans favor the most rigid economy that can be honestly practiced to meet every reasonable demand, and unless the Democrats insist on crippling the Government for partisan purposes, there is no reason why the bills should not be completed in time.

IF the ratification meeting proposed for Tuesday night compares with that held on the South Side, in attendance and interest, the Republicans should turn out in large numbers. The feeling of enthusiasm for the ticket is steadily growing, and the spirit of confidence, unity and strength is becoming very strong within the party. We therefore hope the meeting called will be all that can be asked as regards attendance and enthusiasm. The ticket is worthy a good send-off.

THE friends of Mr. BLAINE will seriously regret the relapse from which he suffers. He accepted too much excitement and labor, after so serious an attack as that which happened him on his way to church. His nervous system, now that the sustaining excitement has passed away, sinks under the strain that was put upon it, and he needs perfect quiet and rest. He will need to be careful of his health for a considerable time to come, if he would be fully and safely restored.

IF true, as reported, that the Turks have slaughtered a vast number of persons in Bulgaria, it is time that, from some source, these barbarities should be effectually punished. A protest from the English Minister hardly answers the necessities of the case. Servia is mobilizing her troops, but whether this means war, is one of the uncertainties of the moment. The outrage if as reported, is equivalent to those perpetrated on the Greeks, at the time of the suppression of the insurrection in that country.

EX-SECRETARY BRISTOW passed through the city yesterday on his way to Kentucky. He has laid aside the honors and dignities of high office, and proceeds in Republican simplicity on his way to the enjoyments of private life. It would be marvelous, were we not accustomed to it, that our public men take on and put off office with such wonderful facility. Yet thus it is. Honors among us come from faithfulness and rectitude, whether in high or low position,—in public or private life.

THE Servians have not abandoned their warlike intentions by any means. They are still gathering up forces, and seem bent on war with Turkey. Some territorial advantages are involved, but it is mainly a race and religious war. The Sclavonic element in Southern Hungary is aroused, and recruits are pouring in for the Servian cause. Thus all the indications point to an active career and a possible war, which, however, may be confined to Turkey, and such of her principalities as may be in revolt.

THE letter of Colonel T. A. SCOTT to PROCTOR KNOTT fully exonerates himself from the suspicions attempted to be cast on him in connection with the CALDWELL dispatch. It also makes it probable that CALDWELL'S private Secretary noticed him of the importance of sending the dispatch. At all events, CALDWELL, in a letter to Colonel SCOTT, fully and clearly sustains the latter in all his statements before the Committee. The truth is what the Committee should be hunting after, and this is amply sustained by CALDWELL in his endorsement of Colonel SCOTT.

THE fact that the President has determined to stop all the operations of the Government unless provision is made for its expenses, is making a profound impression on the Democracy, who are not so willing as they seemed to face the responsibility of having thousands thrown out of employment. Yet this is precisely what is to occur, unless arrangements are made for the necessary expenditures incurred. RANDALL is the principal opposer of concession,—and the other members are strongly insisting on his doing something to relieve them of the difficulty which surrounds them.

THE faithful are turning their faces toward St. Louis, and the coming week will be ablaze with excitement at that point. Through the country at large there is not a great amount of interest manifested in the St. Louis Convention, and the speculation over the probable nominations are almost entirely confined to the Democracy. So far as second delegates go, TILDEN is ahead, but not enough so to have any assurance of success. Still, he has a formidable backing, and may pull through. HENDRICKS ranks next, after which no candidate has more than a State delegation at his back. HANCOCK, who is really the rising man, has no delegation at his back, but still may be the successful contestant. At all events, there is ample room for a free fight, and the successful man will be the one that can manage the susceptible ones the cheapest.

FROM all parts of the country come cheering indications of the earnest and profound enthusiasm with which our Presidential ticket is being received. Naturally, where so many had decided first preferences, a few days were required to quiet their feeling of disappointment that favorites had not been selected; but this over, and a careful examination of the merits and strength of the ticket followed. This has led to the most earnest confidence that the ticket is impregnably strong, and worthy the most earnest support of the Republican party. The prevailing impression now is, even among the Democracy, that they must present the very best ticket they can command, if they would make any contest at all. Ratification meetings are now in order everywhere, and the tide of enthusiasm is steadily rising.

OUR COLLEGE and school commencements this year passed off with fully their usual interest and eclat. Pittsburgh is favored with excellent institutions of learning, among which are our High School, where the most earnest and intelligent attention is given to the training of those committed to its care. A certificate of graduation from this institution is quite equal to that of any institution not capable of conferring collegiate honors. Western University supplies this need, and has, we learn, passed a successful year. Our seminaries for ladies, the Pittsburgh Female College, on Ninth street, and the Pennsylvania Female College, at Shady Side, are both first-class institutions, furnishing ample facilities for solid as well as ornamental education. Both have had prosperous years, and both look out into the future with strong confidence of enlarged success.

THE extradition treaty muddle promises to be the subject of heated debate in the English Parliament, provided the ministry allow it to come up. A feeling of alarm has started owing to the announcement of the President, that we will have no dealings with England under the treaty, until a clear and favorable understanding is had. The Telegraph, of London, in defending Lord DERBY, finds itself compelled to put the defense on a false ground. It assumes that some attempt has been made by our government, to invade the right of asylum, violating to this end the treaty rights of England. There is not the slightest evidence that the United States had any purpose to have Winslow tried for any other crime than forgery, the exact issue on which his extradition was demanded. But the extradition clause of the ASHBURTON treaty did not provide any limitations in that direction. These came from a Parliamentary law, passed but a few years ago, and subsequently to the negotiation of the treaty. Our government simply refused to admit the principle that a treaty could be modified or annulled by an act of Parliament—and this was the issue involved. It will be bad for the ministry if the question comes up for discussion in Parliament.

ENGLISH LABOR.

A serious reduction in the prices paid to miners in England is about to be given effect, and this strange to say without a strike. That is, the miners agree to accept the reduction without creating trouble. The have been advised to this by their Secretary, who suggests that in the event of a strike they may be obliged to accept even less rates than are now offered. All this is indicative, not merely of hardships on the part of the working classes in England, but of severe depression in industry as well. It shows that the working people realize the impossibility of capitalists paying former wages, and so submit to the inevitable. We can not avoid expressing sympathy with them, as the amount they received was not, by any means excessive, while that now paid must be so small as place them on the verge of poverty. The inquiry started by this state of affairs is,—what is the cause of this universal depression in trade? That it rests upon some deeper and profounder principle than the kind and quality of the money used is evident, as it is entirely certain that England the most depressed of all, is the very centre of specie currency.

Has the world produced and manufactured too rapidly? Has its working population increased out of proportion with the consumption? Have labor expediting agencies multiplied the productive power of the world overmuch,—or has a spasm of economy caused the people to live more economically? These are serious questions, in view of the wide spread and prevailing depression in all forms of business. These questions, too must be met, unless we go on, waiting for the good time coming, and expecting chance to restore the equilibrium of things. It is a singular fact that following great panics have been seasons of commercial and manufacturing depression, the old stock of manufactures being worked up before a new supply was required. Yet even this does not account for the prolonged depression in business, over the world at present.

This aside, however, and it is grateful to notice how cordially labor admits the necessities of the situation, so far as a capital is concerned. We do not mean by this to establish a comparison with our workingmen, as the situations are different. We cannot tell whether our manufacturers can or cannot afford to pay a given price, nor do we comment on that. It is simply the friendly spirit that we notice that has led the two elements in England to a friendly recognition of the situation that both are in, and the evident purpose to harmonize till the stress is over. This is the spirit that is generally needed at the present, and if properly exercised, will go far toward settling many difficulties and the bridging over many troubles. Capital and labor should harmonize, and the most friendly spirit should exist between them. The most transparent fairness and sincerity between the two is essential to this; and the fact of the two harmonizing so completely in England, is evidence to us that such a spirit exists at present. But back of this unity in a reduction of prices of labor come the more significant fact that the industrial interests in England are in a very deplorable state; worse, we imagine, than in this country.

BREW AND VANDERBILT.

The Two Money Kings in Their Old Age.

There is something pitiful in the simultaneous breaking down in mind and body and pocket of Daniel Drew, with his home sold over his head and the lawyers pursuing him to the house of his son, where he had sought shelter. And the picture is made more painful still by contrasting it with the picture of his old rival, Commodore Vanderbilt, amid affluence and the comforts of a peculiarly cheerful and happy home. But the lines of the two were always different. Mr. Drew was a hard-working speculator. He enjoyed nothing but speculations, admired nothing, and was morose without being exactly crabbed, and pious without being precisely moral. The Commodore was not the man to plan sad fret over a speculation. He enjoyed everything—fine horses, a rubber of whist, with which game he never allowed business to interfere, and, above all, a good quiet joke and laugh. The speculative spirit in each was strong, but in Wall street gambling the different peculiarities of the two men were as marked as in everything else they did. Drew speculated only that he might speculate again, and on more extended scale, with his profits; and the fever growing by indulgence of the habit of course ruined him. Vanderbilt's great stock operations were merely "flyers" (on a grand scale, it is true) and had some definite object, such as the capture of the Harlem Railroad, the control of Western Union, or the consolidation of the Hudson, Harlem and Central; and in these enterprises his great gains were securely invested. Even in the matter of giving their methods differed. What little piety Vanderbilt has found practical application. Daniel Drew's gifts to churches and schools were speculative, for being in the shape of annuities they depended on his success in Wall street. "As long as I could," he said, "I see 'em through." Vanderbilt, when he gave to educational objects at all, gave munificently and unreservedly, as witness his millions of dollars to the Vanderbilt University at Nashville. In thus building his own monument he was practical as usual.

AFFAIRS OF STATE.

THE amount of capital invested in Beaver Falls manufactories is $2,180,000.

LANCASTER county expects to raise four million dollars worth of tobacco this year.

TWO York county men named Miller a few days ago stole from a blacksmith shop an anvil weighing 950 pounds. The traditional red-hot stove wouldn't be safe in their presence, even if chained down.

THE Greene county Republicans have put the following ticket in nomination: Congress—Jacob Rush. Assembly—Dr. J. L. Shriver. Associate Judge—George Sellers. Sheriff—John Cotterrel. Jury Commissioner—Josiah Gwynn.

THE Colonel Phillips, which was thoroughly overhauled during the winter, has begun making regular trips on Chautauqua Lake. The season gives promise of unusual brilliancy, and visitors are already arriving in considerable numbers.

THE Republicans of Washington county have nominated the following ticket: State Senator—Geo. V. Lawrence. Assembly—Messrs. Billingsly, Duncan and McLean. Sheriff—Mr. Work. Law Judge—Mr. Acheson. Congress—Hon. W. S. Moore.

Remembering all the Particulars.

A recent visitor to Yorktown, Va., met an old negro there ninety-five years old, who went to school with Washington before he was born. The following was the result of their conversation:

"I see Gen'l Washington? Yes, sah, Why, I was here all de time. See de British? See Cornwallis? To be sho'; wasn't I here—right here—all de time. Suttenly—I see 'em all. Now, I tell you, massa. I see Gen'l Washington, and he was a settin' on his hoss, and a eatin' of a peach; and Cornwallis he come out, a slippin' around to get away, and he start out down toward de creek, and he start to run, but Gen'l Washington, he see him right early, an' he started arter him; and Gen'l Washington he didn't want to take no advantage of him, so he run well—an' pretty soon he catch Cornwallis, an' he catch him by the neck, and say: 'You scoundril, I got you!' And Cornwallis, he turn round an' handed Mr. Gen'l Washington his sword, and Gen'l Washington he jess took it an' cut his head off! See it? To be sho' I see it. I was right here all de time, massa—how I gwine help see it? Jess as I tell you. Gen'l Washington was a settin' on his hoss, an' eatin' of a peach—"

Peralto's Horsemanship.

There was one mustang, a vicious, white brute, named Santa Anna, who occasioned much trouble. He would do anything save stand still. It was of no use to bind him, for every time he heard another mustang coming down the home stretch, he would plunge madly about, pulling the grooms all over the track. As the Mexicame down to mount him near the wire, at one attempt he reared, and striking out he caught the lariat between his legs like a dog, sent the groom up against the fence and ran off up the track. At the next attempt he reared so high that he fell over upon his back. At the third attempt Peralto jumped for him, and putting his left foot into the stirrup, seized the lariat. No sooner did the brute feel the weight of the rider than he made a plunge and then reared, but before he was level again Peralto had swung into his seat and went to work with the spurs. The mustang backed several times and made for the fence, but finding it useless and his rider firmly seated, he made off down the stretch like a shot. It was a superb exhibition of Horsemanship, and was greeted with continued applause.—Boston Advertiser.

Modern Conversation.

You should have seen Hobkins at our table. I'd no idea plain diet could be so suggestive. He found spectrum analysis in the salt-cellars, international rowing matches in the spoons, balloon traveling in the omelet, and co-operative housekeeping in the hash. He drew "survival of the fittest" from the very cheese; and, as John confidently remarked, actually shook kindergartens and juvenile delinquents out of the baby's feeding apron. He found prism on discipline in the bread; and female colleges, universal suffrage, and bland opinions generally in the butter. The calves'-head soup brought forth capital punishment; the beef, labor-union systems; and the dessert was full of "Gates Ajar" and spiritual manifestations. Once, while filling his teacup, I felt as if I was pouring out the entire Suez Canal, and I am sure I often dropped in a railroad accident with the sugar. What with iron cars, and elastic platforms, and wide gauges, and new brakes, car-starters, and compensating expansible rail-joinings, I grew confused in spite of myself.—Mrs. Dodge's "Theophilus and Others."

—News has been received at the New York Custom House from the United States District Attorney's office that the celebrated smuggled lace goods which were made for Eugenie, ex-Empress of the French, are to be shortly sold for Government account at United States Marshal's auction. They were seized in May, 1875, by Capt. Bracket, Special Treasury Agent, who followed their owner, a Mr. Hoorix, of Brussels, from New York to Philadelphia, thence to Wilmington, Del., and thence to Washington, where they were seized as contraband. The goods were exhibited at the last Paris Exhibition. The late Mr. A. T. Stewart expressed a wish to be present at their sale. Mr. Grant, of the firm of Grant & Miller, a well known Custom House lace expert, was asked to place a value upon the laces, and said he could not. A dress and shawl have been restored to Mr. Hoorix upon his representation that said goods belonged to his wife. There remain some eighteen or twenty pieces to be disposed of, and their sale promises to be a most interesting affair in spite of hard times.

The body of a baby was found in a cesspool at a house on Third street last night. The remains were taken to the Central Station, and the Coroner notified. It is thought to be a case of infanticide.

Meeting of Red Men

Thomas Jones, D. D. G. S. of the Improved Order of Red Men, has issued the following call to the members of the order:

"You are requested to attend a meeting of the wigwams in this district, to be held in the Select Council chamber, Pittsburgh, Monday, June 26th, at 7½ P. M., to make arrangements for celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the nation's birthday."

A Broken Bottle.

A broken bottle was found on the rocks of the second pier of the Point bridge last evening. In it were the remains of paper, on which the following words could be made out: "May 24, 1876. The contents of this bottle will explain the cause of my death. My friends know where I am." Nothing more could be learned. Perhaps it is a mystery and possibly it is a hoax.

Badly Hurt.

Police Commissioner Sol. Coulson went last night to the residence of a man named Gaust, in the Thirteenth ward, to arrest him on a charge of larceny. Gaust escaped from the house and started to run. In the darkness and his hurry he fell over a high embankment where a new street is being made, and received very serious injuries. He was carried to the Seventh ward station house, and Dr. McCoy sent for. It is feared he will not recover.

John Threamus.

It has been said that the opposition to the Heathen Chinee originates with shoemakers, for the reason that their best patrons of this branch of industry are Bohemians as it may. R. Taggart, No 129 Federal street, Allegheny city, finds his sales of boots and shoes greater than ever before. The reason for this is obvious. The assortments is varied, being of all sizes, kinds, colors and qualities. Prices are suited for the richest and good enough for the poorest. None may go bare-footed away, be their means ever so scanty. Cheap is the word he thrives on.

Another Discovery in the Howard Street Wall.

Yesterday the workmen who were digging the trenches alongside the Howard street stone wall, in Allegheny, in search of alleged irregularities, found the offset or bench in search of which the investigation was first started. It was discovered just on the line between the city and the property holders' portions, and is relieved to be of considerable extent. Its full extent has not yet been ascertained. The workmen will continue the digging until the whole defect in the wall is exposed.

Trip to Castle Shannon.

Quite a number of business men and newspaper men, pursuant to an invitation of the officers of the Castle Shannon Railroad, yesterday afternoon made a visit to Castle Shannon. The grounds and works of the company were all taken in and thoroughly inspected. At the picnic grounds a splendid dinner was served, which being duly discussed, the company was organized into a meeting, Judge Ewing presided, and addresses were made by Dr. James Kerr, Major Russell Errett, Hon. T. J. Bigham, Hon. Joseph Watson, Gen. James S. Negley, and others. Harry Brooke, Esq., recited a poem. Appropriate resolutions were adopted, and late in the evening the excursionists returned to the city, tired but pleased.

Pittsburgh and Tarentum Camp Meeting Association.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Pittsburgh and Tarentum Camp Meeting Association, held yesterday, it was unanimously resolved to repair and beautify the Tarentum grounds by planting trees, &c. It was also decided to lease for a number of years the Johnston grove, adjoining the old grounds, and hold the annual camp meeting this year during the month of August. Quite a number have decided to build cottages in time for the meeting this year, either at the old ground, or on that leased from Mr. Johnson.

The following named were appointed a committee to secure subscriptions to pay off the indebtedness of the Association: Rev. H. Nobles, W. Swirkly, J. G. Matthews, J. R. Smith, R. E. Pierce, W. A. Lewis and J. H. Heaner. The committee reported $1,175 00 already subscribed and pledged themselves to secure the balance, the total indebtedness being some $2,500.

THE BEST GAME YET.

An Extraordinarily Skillful Contest at Union Park—Victory for the Braddocks.

The Braddocks can afford to elevate their caps high in air and indulge in three self congratulatory cheers. They, together with the Covington boys, yesterday played at Union Park the best game of base ball that ever took place in Allegheny City. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of the Braddocks at the close of the contest. It is as follows:

THE FOURTH.

Not a Very Flattering Showing for the Fire Works Display.

The committee of citizens, appointed to arrange for a display of fire works on the Fourth, held a meeting yesterday afternoon, and organized by electing Dr. Arnhoit Chairman. No action was taken, but an informal talk was had.

The Finance Committee has not made any brilliant showing up yet in the way of funds, and unless some active work is done it is much feared that the fire works exposition will be noticeable only for its insignificance. The two cities should certainly be able to expend $4,000 or $5,000 for that purpose, but from present indications it looks very much as if the very small portion of that amount will be raised. Nearly all the small towns in the neighborhood have already sent on considerable orders for fireworks. Petrolia will have a $1,000 display; McKeesport $350; Wilkinsburg $500; Brookville $350; Sewickley about $500, and other places fully as large.

The committee adjourned to meet again this evening at half-past seven o'clock in City Hall. It is particularly desired that every collector and member of the Centennial Finance Committee be present, to report the amount already collected and the probable amount that will be raised in order that the Fire Works Committee can act intelligently and send their order on immediately.

ECLECTICISM.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Special Session Last Night—The Pyrotechnic Display on the Fourth to be Protected—Declination to Authorize Special Policemen.

A special meeting of Allegheny Councils was held last evening for the purpose of requesting the Mayor to suspend on the Fourth of July the ordinance prohibiting the discharge of fire works within the city limits. The select branch had no quorum, and therefore could not legally act upon any matter.

SELECT COUNCIL.

J. C. PATTERSON.....President.
R. T. WHITE.....Clerk.

At a quarter past eight o'clock the following members were present. Messrs. Cochran, Chambers, Drum, Eberhardt, Hogg, Hockestine, Hartman, McKelvey, Wilhelm, Weesley, and President Patterson.

As there was no quorum, no business could be transacted.

The resolution passed by Common Council requesting the Mayor to not enforce the ordinance relative to fire arms and fire works on the Fourth of July, was discussed informally.

Mr. MCKELVEY and Mr. HUCKESTEIN objected to allowing a indiscriminate explosion of fireworks during the entire day. They favored suspending the ordinance so far as the display to be made on Monument Hill is concerned.

Mr. DRUM thought perhaps it would be better if the ordinance was entirely repealed. As it is the boys are driven into the back yards and alleys, where they throw their fire-crackers around, and are much more dangerous than if they were allowed to throw them into the streets. It is impossible to enforce the ordinance as it now stands as long as fireworks are manufactured and sold. As to the firework at night, there is but little danger from them.

It was finally agreed to notify Common Council that Select Council does not concur in allowing an indiscriminate use of fireworks, but favored suspending the ordinance so far as the Monument Hill display is concerned.

Mr. HEAGY submitted a resolution authorizing the Mayor to appoint one hundred special policemen for the 4th inst. Mr. DRAVO, Vice President, M. Weyand, Esq., Secretary, and Captain Creery, Esq., Treasurer. The condition of the College was found to be very satisfactory.

In the evening a large and brilliant audience assembled to enjoy the performances of the graduating class. The young ladies were to assume a la Centennial, even to powder-d hair. The essays were quite creditable, both as to matter and delivery, the following being the subjects: Mr. Shutterly, "Specific Medication;" Miss Sampson, "Mind;" Miss Squier, "Ancient Civilization;" Miss Wilhelm, "Poetry;" Miss Stone, "Music;" Miss Schmitt, "Art;" Miss Schaner, "Shams;" Miss Selling, "Wilson;" Miss Walker, "Wall;" and President Golden.

The chairman stated the object of this special meeting, after which Mr. Shutterly, the valedictorian, read the rules were suspended in order that any business which might be presented could be considered.

Mr. LINGENFELDER presented the following:

Resolved, That the Mayor be and he is hereby requested to take such action in enforcing the ordinance entitled "Fire Arms and Fire Works," page 141, City Code, in so far as it prohibits the exhibition of fire works from 12 o'clock m. of July 4th to 12 P. M. of July 5, 1876, by authority of the Centennial Committee of Councils

Mr. MCGUIRE was in favor of repealing the objectionable ordinance altogether, so that the boys could shoot fire crackers to their heart's content. He was opposed to an arbitrary law that would fine and fish out of the boys in this matter of fire works.

The resolution was finally adopted.

Mr. COOKE, resolution granting Alex. McGilvery the right to erect a frame building in the Fifth ward. Referred.

Business from Select Council was taken up, and an ordinance for the opening of Page and Beach streets was adopted. Action was also had on the following business:

Ordinance prohibiting persons getting on or off moving cars. Referred to Committee on Police.

Ordinance for the opening of Allegheny avenue, from Franklin street to Washington avenue. Passed.

Resolution for the payment of $3,880.24 to Bernard Byers, being the balance due him for the grading of Avenue D. Passed.

Mr. SCHMITT presented the report of the Committee on Wharves and Landings. It was received and fixed the penalties for repealing a previous action of Councils prohibiting the landing of any part of the wharf for the transaction of business not legitimately connected with it was indefinitely postponed.

The resolution securing a pyrotechnic display on the Fourth, noted above, was taken up in Common Council with an amendment confining the exhibition to the evening of the Fourth instead of extending it to 12 o'clock of the day following. C. C. recede from its action and concurred with S. C.

Mr. MCGILVERY offered a resolution directing the Ordinance Committee to prepare a bill prohibiting butchers from throwing their offal in the sewers on Spring Garden avenue and East street. Referred.

Mr. HUNTER, resolution directing the Mayor to employ one hundred men for police service on the Fourth of July. Adopted.

Also, resolution directing the Committee on Fire Engines to purchase and place on such engines as answer alarms from the hill districts patent heating apparatuses. Referred.

BEAVER COLLEGE.

Interesting Commencement Exercises.

Commencement week at Beaver College and Musical Institute, Beaver, Pa., opened with the usual Baccalaureate sermon, Sunday afternoon, 18th inst., by Rev. Dr. Hiram Miller, of that place. Monday evening the under graduate exercises took place. Tuesday morning the examination of classes commenced, and closed Thursday noon. The reviews were rigid and the result gratifying to all concerned. Rev E. S. Snyder, of Allegheny City, delivered the fine address on Tuesday evening. Wednesday evening the grand annual concert of the Musical Institute of the College took place. Notwithstanding an admission fee was required the house was packed, and it was a great success and spoke well for the musical culture of the pupils.

Thursday the commencement proper took place. In the afternoon the Board of Trustees held their annual meeting. The officers are Hon. Chief Justice Agnew, President; Hon. D. Agnew, Vice President; M. Weyand, Esq., Secretary, and Captain Creery, Esq., Treasurer. The condition of the College was found to be very satisfactory.

ARNOLD GROVE.

Adjourned Meeting of the Subscribers to the Camp Meeting Association Fund—Temporary Organization—The Trustees Directed to Purchase the Property and Close the Contract Immediately.

An adjourned meeting of the subscribers to the Arnold Grove Camp Meeting Association fund was held at Smithfield street M. E. church last evening, Mr. James P. Baird in the chair, and Mr. W. S. Brickel Secretary.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. John Flinn, after which the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Fullerton, from the committee appointed to confer with the trustees of the Tarentum Camp Meeting Association, relative to a union of the two associations, submitted a report, in which it was stated that a conference had been held, and that the Tarentum gentlemen positively rejected the proposition, and assigned as one of the reasons for the action that the purchasing committee should have reported to that body before concluding a purchase of the property. Other matters were stated in the report and by members of the committee who had attended the conference, which indicated that the Tarentum men were "on their metal," or in other words, were considerably out of humor because another site had been selected for a camp ground.

Mr. Irwin stated that as he was one who had been accused of negligence by the trustees of the old association, he desired to state that he had no official knowledge of having received his appointment from them. He certainly thought that he represented those who desired a new location, and if there was a joint committee, he had never met with a single member from the old association. In his opinion, there was a jealousy existing on the part of those wedded to the old ground against the new association, and they were seeking for cause to oppose it.

The report was received and the committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Cassiday the meeting proceeded to the election of a Temporary Chairman, Secretary and Board of Trustees to serve until such time as a permanent organization is effected.

The following named gentlemen were unanimously elected officers of the association: Messrs. Jas. P. Baird; Secretary, John Graff; Treasurer, W. S. Brickle. On motion of Mr. Brickle the Trustees, Messrs. Irwin and Hazlet, in connection with Messrs. H. Sampson and J. J. Shutterly be directed to have the grounds surveyed, and a plan of the same made, and that the members of the association would be satisfied with their action.

Mr. Moreland, the trustees were instructed to close the contract for the purchase of the Arnold Grove property immediately.

On motion of Mr. Brickel a committee of seven was appointed to collect money subscribed to obtain new subscriptions, in order to meet the two payments on the property. The chair appointed the following gentlemen on the committee: Messrs. Baldwin, Hamilton, Sampson, Shutterly, Youngson, Shepard and Graff.

By request the names of those who had subscribed to the articles of the association were read, when it appeared that there were already ninety names attached to the paper. The original list of subscribers, it was stated contained over one hundred names, most of whom would sign the articles of association as soon as presented to them.

On motion of Mr. Moreland the following relative to the control of religious services at camp meetings was adopted as one of the by-laws of the association:

The religious exercises shall be under the control of the Presiding Elder assisted by such other ministers as he and the Board of Managers may appoint. In the absence of the Presiding Elders the Managers shall select a minister to act in his place.

On motion adjourned to meet at the call of the Committee on Surveys.

Valley Picnic Grounds.

The "Valley" picnic grounds offer splendid attractions to their patrons. No parks in this vicinity are more suitable for Sunday School excursions, public school picnics, or other pleasure gatherings. They are within easy reach of the city by the Valley railroad. The grounds are interspersed with pretty groves, have a fine platform, and neat buildings with every convenience for cooking. A spring of cool, delicious water supplies the kitchen. Terms reasonable.

Once More to the Front.

Some firms as well as some individuals are never found behind in anything belonging to business, and when you find a firm of this character you may rely upon it being a first class business establishment in every respect, prompt in the payment of all its bills, honest in all its representations to the public, and a safe and reliable place to make your purchases. Such a place is the Boston Clothing House 95 Smithfield street, Howard's Block, sign of the golden Hob. This firm has just received another large lot of custom made clothing of a very superior quality—they deal in nothing else—which they are offering at rates immensely low, even in these times of panic prices. At this establishment there is but one price, and that lower than the same quality of goods can be bought for at any other establishment in the city. Remember the place, 95 Smithfield street.

A Chance to Invest.

We direct the attention of those of our readers who desire to invest in real estate to the advertisement of Public Sale, in our new advertisments. Mr. Jas. W. Any information concerning the above mentioned property can be obtained at the office of Mr. Drape.

A. H. Rowan yesterday filed his petition in court praying to be released from his recognizance of appearance in the court of Wm. P. Wright, who was under bonds for his appearance at court to answer the charge of neglect to provide for and support his family. The petition sets forth that the petitioner procured a bail piece, and placed it in the hands of an officer who arrested Wright and had him in custody at the station in Verona, when he, Wright, pushed the officer from the platform and made his escape.

August Bennett, indicted for embezzlement and H. J. McGivern also indicted for embezzlement, having been surrendered by their bail, were placed in charge of Warden Smith.

Surpassed Themselves.

In a recent instrument received by Mellor & Hoene, the firm of Chickering & Sons have surpassed themselves indeed. This royal piano is unrivalled in its fine compass and a wonderful range of capacities, from the crash of an orchestra to the dreamy chords of a nocturne. It is finished in polished ebony traced with gold, and with the snowy gleam of the keys, the tout ensemble is a perfect description. The pleasure of such a beautiful instrument, even viewed in the light of a piece of furniture could not fail to exert a refining influence on the nature of the most callous and ungenerate. But its tone and touch are in full accord with the rare artistic attributes. Surely Mozart nor Handel, nor any of those grand old masters ever dreamed in their dreamiest mood of so perfect an instrument. We would advise the lovers of the beautiful to call and see this wonderful production. Nothing like it has ever been brought to this city and a visit to Mellor & Hoene's, 79 Fifth avenue, will be amply repaid.

A PECULIAR POLICEMAN.

Ex-Lieutenant Tyre in the Role of a Law Breaker—Twice Escapes from Custody, but is Finally Lauded in Jail.

Lieutenant Aleck Tyre, who recently retired from the city police force, has, it appears, tired of the city, and yesterday started in search of a more genial clime. As will be remembered, two suits for alimony had been instituted against him, he was under bonds, and, as he stated, not wishing his bondsmen to suffer in case judgment should go against him, he yesterday surrendered himself and started out to secure another bondsman accompanied by a deputy sheriff and officer Wilmot, who kindly gave him permission to enter a house alone. After waiting some time, and Tyre not making his appearance, they started in search of him.

In the afternoon two deputy sheriffs ran across him at Soho, and attempted to arrest him. Tyre (who is a very powerful man) quietly picked up one of the officers and literally threw him over the fence. The other deputy has but one arm, and Tyre, remarking that he didn't want to hurt him, walked off in the direction of lower town. The two deputies followed him for a considerable distance, but finally lost sight of him. Tyre came on down and entering 'Squire Logan's office, at the corner of Wylie avenue and Federal street, made an information against the two armed officer for threatening him with a revolver. The officers came past while Tyre was in the office, and entered to arrest him. To their astonishment they were arrested, and were obliged to give bail for a hearing on Tyre's charge. Having done so, they again took the doughty ex-lieutenant in charge, having first obtained the assistance of Sheriff Fife, who happened to be going past in a buggy with his wife. The Sheriff remarked to Tyre that he had better go along peaceably as it would be better for him, and the quartet started down the avenue in the direction of the jail. At the corner of Tunnel street, however, Tyre became disgusted with the proceedings, and a shocking row and a couple of his captors started to run. He was caught before he had fairly got started, but being inclined to fight for his liberty, it became necessary to force the handcuffs on him. During the tussle he was quite severely beaten over the head—some say with handy-billys. After infinite trouble he was lodged in jail, where he will likely remain until he comes to trial on the numerous charges which have been preferred against him.

Anniversary Exercises Next Week.

The anniversary exercises of Washington and Jefferson College will commence tomorrow evening by the delivery of the Baccalaureate sermon at four o'clock in the evening in the Town Hall. The sermon to the Society of Religious Inquiry will be preached in the same place at 8 P. M. that evening by Rev. H. J. Beer, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio. The class day exercises will be given in the Town Hall on Monday evening. The oration to the Literary Society elected will be delivered on Tuesday evening by Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., of Pittsburgh, Pa. The commencement will be on Wednesday, June 28, at 9:30 A. M., in Town Hall. At 1 P. M. the usual dinner will be given to the graduating class and guests in Examination Hall, in the College buildings. At 2 the class of "76" will plant their memorial tree, after which there will be a College reunion in the grove, with addresses from old friends present. The railroads have arranged to run special trains from Wheeling and Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Richmond. It appears, however, that there is but one train from Richmond, and that there is not as much competition as there should be. Probable Infanticide.

The body of a baby was found in a cesspool at a house on Third street last night. The remains were taken to the Central Station, and the Coroner notified. It is thought to be a case of infanticide.

Meeting of Red Men.

Thomas Jones, D. D. G. S. of the Improved Order of Red Men, has issued the following call to the members of the order:

"You are requested to attend a meeting of the wigwams in this district to be held in the Select Council chamber, Pittsburgh, Monday, June 26th, at 7½ P. M., to make arrangements for celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the nation's birthday."

A Broken Bottle.

A broken bottle was found on the rocks of the second pier of the Point bridge last evening. In it were the remains of a paper, on which the following words could be made out: "May 24, 1876. The contents of this bottle will explain the cause of my death. My friends know whom I am." Nothing more could be learned. Perhaps it is a mystery and possibly it is a hoax.

Badly Hurt.

Police Commissioner Sol. Coulson went last night to the residence of a man named Gaust, in the Thirteenth ward, to arrest him on a charge of larceny. Gaust escaped from the house and started to run. In the darkness and his hurry he fell over a high bank, and when he struck the ground he made, and received very serious injuries. He was carried to the Eleventh ward station house, and Dr. McCoy sent for. It is feared he will not recover.

John Stevenson.

It has been said that the opposition to the Heathen Chinee originated with shoemakers, for the reason that they are poor patrons of this branch of industry. Be this as it may, it is a fact that Frederick street, Allegheny city, finds his sales of boots and shoes greater than ever before. The reason for this is obvious. The assortment is varied, being of all sizes, kinds, colors and qualities, from fine enough for the richest and good enough for the poorest. None may go bare-footed away, be their means ever so scanty. Cheap is the word he thrives on.

Another Discovery in the Howard Street Wall.

Yesterday the workmen who were digging the trenches alongside the Howard street stone wall, in Allegheny, in search of alleged irregularities, found the offset or bench in search of which the investigation was first started. It was discovered just on the line between the city's and the property holders' portions, and is believed to be the entire extent. Its full extent has not yet been ascertained, as the digging will continue the digging until the whole defect in the wall is exposed.

Trip to Castle Shannon.

Quite a number of business men and newspaper men, pursuant to an invitation of the officers of the Castle Shannon Railroad, yesterday afternoon made a visit to Castle Shannon. The grounds and works of the company at that place were thoroughly inspected. At the picnic grounds a splendid dinner was served, which being duly discussed, the excursionists organized themselves for the business of the day, and addresses were made by Dr. James Kerr, Major Russell Errett, Hon. T. J. Bigham, Hon. Joseph Watson, Gen. James M. Negley, and others. Harry Brooks, Esq., recited a poem. Appropriate resolutions were adopted, and late in the evening the excursionists returned to the city, tired but pleased.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Special Session Last Night—The Pyrotechnic Display on the Fourth to be Protected—Declination to Authorize Special Policemen.

A special meeting of Allegheny Councils was held last evening for the purpose of requesting the Mayor to not enforce the ordinance prohibiting the discharge of fire works within the city limits. The select branch had no quorum, and therefore could not legally act upon any matter.

SELECT COUNCIL.

J. C. PATTERSON.....President.
E. T. WHITE.....Clerk.

At a quarter past eight o'clock the following members were present. Messrs. Cochran, Chambers, Drum, Eberhardt, Hegy, Hockenstine, Hartman, McKelvey, Wilhelm, Woolley, and President Patterson.

As there was no quorum, no business could be transacted.

A resolution passed by Common Council requesting the Mayor to not enforce the ordinance relative to fire arms and fire works on the Fourth of July was received informally.

Mr. MCKELVEY and Mr. HUCKESTEIN objected to allowing an indiscriminate explosion of fireworks during the entire day. They favored suspending the ordinance so far as the display to be made on Monument Hill is concerned.

Mr. DRUM thought perhaps it would be better if the ordinance was entirely repealed. As it is the boys are driven into the back yards and alleys, where they throw their fire-crackers around, and are much more dangerous than if they were allowed to throw them into the streets. It is impossible to enforce the ordinance as it now stands as long as fireworks are manufactured and sold. As to the fireworks at night, there is but little danger from them.

It was finally agreed to notify Common Council that S. C. would not concur in allowing an indiscriminate use of fireworks, but favored suspending the ordinance so far as the Monument Hill display is concerned.

Mr. HEAGY submitted a resolution authorizing the Mayor to appoint one hundred special policemen for duty on July 4th. He said that it was the intention to order out the entire police force to head the procession, and march over the entire route with it.

The Chairman ruled that as there was no quorum present, no action could be taken on the resolution, which contemplated the expenditure of money.

The ordinance which gives the Mayor full power to appoint special policemen whenever he may consider it necessary was then read, whereupon Mr. Heagy withdrew his resolution.

The meeting then adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

J. O. S. GOLDEN.....President.
ROBERT DILWORTH.....Clerk.

This branch assembled shortly after eight o'clock. The members present were Messrs. Alston, Armstrong, Bedell, Biber, Cooke, Hunter, Hughes, Kredel, Kerr, Lingenfelter, Landis, Mueller, Mead, McGuire, Neely, Reis, Rholes, Swindell, Stone, Schmitt, Schauer, Seaman, Selling, Wilson, Walker, Wall, and President Golden.

The chair then stated the object of this special meeting, after which, on motion of Mr. MCGUIRE, the rules were suspended in order that any business which might be presented could be considered.

Mr. LINGENFELDER presented the following:

Resolved, That the Mayor be and he is hereby requested to take no action in enforcing the ordinance entitled "Fire Arms, Fire and Squibs," page 141, City Code, in so far as it prohibits the exhibition of fire works from 12 o'clock of July 4th to 12 M. of July 5, 1876, as ordered by authority of the Centennial Committee of Councils.

Mr. DILWORTH was in favor of repealing the objectionable ordinance altogether, so that the boys could shoot fire crackers to their heart's content. He was opposed to allowing the Mayor to use men and fish out of the boys in this matter of fire works.

The resolution was finally adopted.

Mr. COOKE, resolution granting Alex. McGilvery the right to erect a frame building in the Fifth ward. Passed.

Business from Select Council was taken up, and an ordinance was passed for the opening of Fifty-second street from Penn avenue to Butler street.

Ordinance prohibiting persons getting on or off locomotives or cars while in motion. Pass d.

Ordinance to vacate a portion of Allegheny avenue, from Franklin street to Washington avenue. Passed.

Resolution for the payment of $3,880.24 to Bernard Byers, being the balance due him for the grading of river avenue, Eighth ward. Passed.

Mr. SCHMITT presented the report of the Committee on Wharves and Landings. It was received and filed without consideration. The ordinance regulating the use of wharves and landings, and for the transaction of business and legitimately connected therewith, was finally postponed.

The resolution securing a pyrotechnic display on the Fourth, noted above, was returned from Select Council with an amendment confining the exhibition to the vicinity of Monument Hill, instead of extending it to 12 o'clock of the day following. C. C recedes from its action and concurred with S. C.

Mr. MCGUIRE offered a resolution directing the Ordinance Committee to prepare a bill prohibiting hitching horses to trees on Federal street in the wards of Spring Garden avenue and East street. Referred.

Mr. HUNTER, resolution directing the Mayor to employ one hundred men for police service on the Fourth of July. Withdrawn.

Also, resolution directing the Committee on Fire Engines to purchase a hose reel, and report plans to answer alarms from the fifth districts patent heating apparatuses. Referred.

Adjourned.

BEAVER COLLEGE.

Interesting Commencement Exercises.

Commencement week at Beaver College and Musical Institute, Beaver, Pa., opened with the usual Baccalaureate sermon, Sunday afternoon, 18th inst., by Rev. Dr. Hiram Miller, of that place. Monday evening the under graduate exercises took place. Tuesday morning the examination of classes commenced, and closed on Thursday noon. The reviews were rigid and the result gratifying to all concerned. Rev. E. B. Snyder, of Allegheny city, delivered a fine address before the Literary Societies Tuesday evening the grand annual concert of the Musical Institute of the College took place. Notwithstanding an admission fee was required the audience was large. It was a great success and spoke well for the musical culture of the pupils.

Thursday the commencement proper took place. In the afternoon the Board of Trustees held their annual meeting. The officers are as follows: Chief Justice Agnew, President; Hon. J. F. Dravo, Vice President; M. Weyand, Esq., Secretary, and T. McCreery, Esq., Treasurer. The condition of the College was found to be very satisfactory.

In the evening a large and brilliant audience assembled to enjoy the performances of the graduating class. The young ladies were costumed a la Centennial, even to powder-d hair. The essays were quite creditable, both as to matter and manner of delivery. At the close, Judge J. W. F. White delivered a very appropriate and eloquent address to the graduates. President Taylor then presented diplomas to the seven graduates, namely: Misses Naunie Russell and Emma H. Strock, of Rochester; Carrie Woodruff, Beaver; Clara B. Stenmons, Cadiz, O; Hattie Rutan, Scio, O.; Cecelia J. Richardson, Bentleysville, and Clara C. Montgomery, Bellaire, O. The vocal and instrumental music was of a high order and added to the interest of the occasion.

Personal.

A few words as to his rise and progress in business may not be amiss. A pioneer, and also a veteran, having begun his present business at No. 68 Federal street in the year 1849. He continued to extend his capacities and stock until 1854, when he was burned out, but with his characteristic energy he, in two months from the time of the fire, occupied a larger and more commodious building on the old site, with the augmented stock of goods, has always been on the qui vive to discover and introduce improved and labor saving inventions, and was the first person west of the mountains to embark in the sale of house furnishing goods. To show his regard for the comfort and welfare of his patrons we may mention he was the first to introduce the canning of fruits. The first to introduce the refrigerator and ice-chest, the old dominion coffee-pot, the anthracite heating stove, the light patent step-ladder, the steam washer and many other articles of great utility and excellence. His primary aim in business being to subserve the interest of his patrons as to quantity and quality of goods it became a maxim among buyers that anything and everything capable of use could to be had at this emporium, and what he did not have was not worth the buying or the using. And so yet, for if there be any article of ingenuity or convenience to be used in the household, the good housewife's mind instantly reverts to this well known House as the place most likely at which to secure that which is desired. In connection we must not omit mention of a genuine home comfort and luxury just secured called "Fowler's Patent Dry Pan," which affords effectual protection against the annoyance of flies, and may be used efficiently in the office, the sick room, the dining room, or any other place desired to be rid of the fly nuisance. The machine is light, neat, ornamental, is wound up like a clock, is simple in construction and a perfect automatic, self-acting substitute for the fly brush, and so cheap that every family can afford one. Call at Geo. W. Hubley's, No. 77 Federal street, Allegheny city, and see this wonderful machine in operation.

ARNOLD GROVE.

Adjourned Meeting of the Subscribers to the Camp Meeting Association—Temporary Organization—The Trustees Directed to Purchase the Property and Close the Contract Immediately.

An adjourned meeting of the subscribers to the Arnold Grove Camp Meeting Association fund was held at Smithfield street M. E. church last evening, Mr. James P. Baird in the chair, and Mr. W. S. Brickel Secretary.

The meeting was opened with prayer by by Mr. John Flinn, after which the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Fullerton, from the committee appointed to confer with the trustees of the Tarentum Camp Meeting Association, relative to a union of the two associations, submitted a report, in which it was stated that a conference had been held, and that the Tarentum gentlemen positively rejected the proposition, and assigned as one of the reasons for the action that the purchasing committee should have reported to that body before concluding a purchase of the property. Other matters were stated in the report and by members of the committee who had attended the conference, which indicated that the Tarentum men were "on their metal," or in other words, were considerably out of humor because another site had been selected for a camp ground.

Mr. Irwin stated that as he was one who had been accused of negligence by the trustees of the old association, he desired to state that he had no official knowledge of having received his appointment from them. He certainly thought that he represented those who desired a new location, and if there was a joint committee, he had never met with a single member from the old association. In his opinion, there was a jealousy existing on the part of those wedded to the old ground against the new association, and they were seeking for causes upon which to oppose it.

The report was received and the committee discharged.

On motion of Mr. Cassiday the meeting proceeded to the election of a Temporary President, Secretary and Treasurer, to serve until such time as a permanent organization is effected.

The following named gentlemen were unanimously elected officers of the association: President, Jas. P. Baird; Secretary, John Graff; Treasurer, W. S. Brickle. On motion of Mr. Brickle the Trustees, Messrs. Irwin and Hazlet, in connection with Messrs. Fullerton and J. J. Shuttery, be directed to have the grounds surveyed and a plan of the same made, and that the members of the association would be satisfied with the action.

On motion of Mr. Moreland, the trustees were instructed to close the contract for the purchase of the Arnold Grove property immediately.

On motion of Mr. Brickel a committee of seven was appointed to collect money subscribed and obtain new subscriptions, in order to meet the first payment for the property. On motion of Mr. Moreland the following relative to the control of religious services at camp meetings was adopted as one of the by-laws of the association:

On motion adjourned to meet at the call of the Committee on Surveys.

Valley Picnic Grounds.

The "Valley" picnic grounds offer splendid attractions to their patrons. No parks in this vicinity are more suitable for Sunday School excursions, public school picnics, or other pleasure gatherings. They are within easy reach of the city by the Valley railroad. The grounds are interspersed with pretty groves, have a fine platform, and neat buildings with every convenience for cooking. A spring of cool, delicious water supplies the kitchen. Terms reasonable.

Once More to the Front.

Some firms as well as some individuals are never found behind in anything belonging to business, and when you find a firm of this character you may rely upon it being a first class business establishment in every respect, prompt in the payment of all its bills, honest in all its representations to customers, a safe and reliable place to make your purchases. Such a place is the Boston Clothing House 95 Smithfield street, Howard's Block, sign of the golden Hob. This firm has just received another large lot of custom made clothing of a very superior quality—ideal in nothing else—which they are offering at rates immensely low, even in these times of panic prices. At this establishment there is but one price, and that lower than the same quality of go ds can be bought for at any other establishment in the city. Remember the place, 95 Smithfield street.

Surpassed Themselves.

In a recent instrument received by Mellor & Hoene, the firm of Chickering & Son have surpassed themselves indeed. The royal piano is an "upright" of full compass and a wonderful production. Properties, from the crash of an orchestra to the dreamy chords of a nocturne. It is finished in polished ebony traced with gold, and with the every grace of the keys, the case ensemble is rich beyond description. The pleasure of such a beautiful creation, even viewed in the light of a piece of furniture could not be overrated, but the influence on the nature of the most callous and unregenerate. But its tone and touch are in full accord with its other rare attributes. Merely to say nor Raudel, nor any of those grand old masters ever had such an ideal instrument. We would advise the lovers of the beautiful to be sure to call and see this wonderful production. Sole agents for this piano is here brought to this city and a visit to Mellor & Hoene's, 79 Fifth avenue, will be amply repaid.

A PECULIAR POLICEMAN.

Ex-Lieutenant Tyre in the Role of a Law Breaker—Twice Escapes from Custody, but is Finally Landed in Jail.

Lieutenant Aleck Tyre, who recently retired from the city police force, has, it appears, tired of the city, and yesterday started in search of a more genial clime. As will be remembered, two suits for alimony had been instituted against him, he was under bonds, and, as he stated, not wishing his bondsmen to suffer in case judgment should go against him, he yesterday surrendered himself and started out to secure another bondsman accompanied by a deputy sheriff and officer Wilmot, who kindly gave him permission to enter a house alone. After waiting some time, and Tyre not making his appearance, they started in search of him.

In the afternoon two deputy sheriffs ran across him at Soho, and attempted to arrest him. Tyre (who is a very powerful man) quietly picked up one of the officers and literally threw him over the fence. The other deputy has but one arm, and Tyre, remarking that he didn't want to hurt him, walked off in the direction of lower town. The two deputies followed him for a considerable distance, but finally lost sight of him. Tyre came down and entering Squire Logue's office, at the corner of Wylie avenue and Federal street, made an information against the one armed officer for threatening him with a revolver. The officers came past while Tyre was in the office, and entered to arrest him. To their astonishment they were arrested, and were obliged to give bail for a hearing on Tyre's charge. Having done so, they again took the doughty ex-lieutenant in charge, having first obtained the assistance of Sheriff Fife, who happened to be going past in a buggy with his wife. The Sheriff remarked to Tyre that he had better go along peaceably as it would be better for him, and the quartet started down the avenue in the direction of the jail. At the corner of Tunnel street, however, Tyre became disgusted with the proceedings, and knocking down a couple of his captors started to run. He was caught before he had fairly got started, but being inclined to fight for his liberty, it became necessary to use force to overcome him. During the tussle he was quite severely beaten over the head—some say with handy-billys. A fine infinite trouble he has we lodged in jail, where he will likely remain until he comes to trial on the numerous charges which have been preferred against him.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 23, 1876.

We have still to offer, as to general feature, our old report. Business in finances, trade and speculation seems to be diminishing, as is shown by the lower range of the daily average of bank clearings in each as compared in last week, and exchanges from the Eastern cities show that the stagnation in finances and trade is even greater there than here. They do not quote any decline in the stock securities, but will concur in saying that there are fewer borrowers, and that the supply of loanable capital is largely increasing. The Philadelphia Ledger says that in that city (where one would suppose that the Centennial would stimulate trade and enterprise) "there is hardly enough doing to make quotations of rates of interest." A similar tone prevails in the money reports of the other Eastern cities. It is not so bad here yet. In one direction, there are signs of a better spirit. We understand that at the next case of Jay's will there will be considerable doing, two or three combinations having been formed with a view to its purchase. If sold it will immediately be put in running condition, and a full and full operation at soon as possible. The gentlemen who have it in hand consider the purchase have ample capital to sustain their operations.

The stock market at the opening was 1 to 2 per cent. higher for Ohio & Mississippi, Rock Island, Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph, Michigan Central and New Jersey Central. Other changes were unchanged. The market closed at about New Jersey Central advanced 2 per cent., and the remainder of the list ¾@1 per cent., the latter Western Union. Subsequently New York Central declined 1 per cent., and the remainder of the list ¾@¾. Still later prices advanced ¾@¾, the latter N orthwestern preferred. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, June 23, 1876.

Trade in general merchandise continues dull, and as regards values, about the only change to note is an advance on Sugar-cured Hams and Shoulders. Grain and Flour continue dull and neglected, while both Sugar and Coffee are firm, the Grocery trade is devoid of animation.

APPLES—New crop continue to come forward freely, mostly from Baltimore, and the market is well supplied; selling at $2.50@3.00 per bbl.

BEANS—Scarcely any inquiry; about out of season, and white stocks here are small, holders are anxious to close out; quoted at 2@2½ lbs.

BERRIES—Sales of Straw and Raspberries at 10a 15c ₱ quart box, as to size and condition.

BUTTER—As noted in our last report, there is an increasing demand and with light receipts and a diminished supply, the market is gradually stronger; prime to choice solid packed, 15@17c.

CHEESE—There is a very good legitimate demand but no change in prices; prime new Ohio Factory, 8¼@8½ to the trade, and 9@9½c in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Both foreign and domestic Dried Fruits continue exceedingly dull, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations.

EGGS—Continue in light supply; some dealers were entirely out to-day, hence prices are still tending upward; we now quote at 10@12c.

FLOUR—Quiet and unchanged. We quote: Spring wheat flours, $5.75, the outside figure for choice; Minnesota; red winters, $6.50@7; ambers, $7.25@7.50; patent process and fancy white wheat, $8.00@8.50. Rye Flour, $4.75@5.

GROCERIES—Trade is generally reported dull, as it usually is at this season of the year, and the leading staples present no new features deserving of special mention.
